AIDE site is a private project site and access to the portal protected by user ID and password. For the convenience of new NASA and HLN users the site supports a guest account. All site accesses are logged in the database. It is hence possible to trace all portal acctivities for each user, including "guest".

All portal logged activities are tagged by MEMBERID. For guest account the value of MEMBERID is 986. Please, make a note of it since this value will be used on the following diagrams.
