PLAINTIFF’S STATEMENT OF DISPUTED FACTS

Date: March 8, 2022

Time: 9:00 a.m.

Judge: Hon. David O. Carter

A. Defendants’ Claim	B. Plaintiff’s Response
1. “The Select Committee is investigating ... an effort by the former President of the United States to remain in office by obstructing Congress’s count of the electoral votes. Plaintiff John Eastman purports to have been the former President’s lawyer in connection with that effort.” Opp. at 1.	Plaintiff denies any effort to “obstruct” results. Publicly available materials document a legal argument in favor of the permissibility of a brief delay in the certification process. See, e.g., Eastman remarks on Jan. 6 (“And all we are demanding of Vice President Pence is this afternoon at 1:00 he let the legislators of the state look into this so we get to the bottom of” the illegality and fraud); Defendants’ Ex. N (Eastman email to Jacob at 9:44 pm MST: “adjourn for 10 days to allow the legislatures to finish their investigations”). See, e.g., D’s Ex. K (letter from Pennsylvania state senators noting “numerous unlawful violations” of state election law and “usurp[ation] [of] legislative authority” that led them to believe “that PA election results should not have been certified.”). Publicly available memos from Plaintiff specifically state the process may well have resulted in a victory for now President Biden: “If, after investigation, proven fraud and illegality is insufficient to alter the results of the election, the original slate of electors would remain valid. BIDEN WINS.” Opp. at 9 n.27 (citing Jan. 3 Memo on Jan. 6 Scenario, CNN, https://perma.cc/B8XQ-4T3Z)
2. Eastman “spoke at the rally on the morning of January 6, spreading proven falsehoods to the tens of thousands of people attending that rally.” Opp. at 1. “Plaintiff falsely alleged widespread manipulation and fraud with voting	Defendants have not introduced evidence sufficient for this Court to find that Plaintiff’s statements on January 6 were false, let alone impute such knowledge to him on that date.

1 machines, purportedly altering the election outcome.” Opp. at 12. 2 3 “And he was even involved in the effort to spread false allegations of election fraud to the public.” Opp. at 42.
5 3. “that no President can threaten the peaceful transition of power ever again.” Opp. at 1. 6 7 8	The defendants have not submitted evidence to support a finding that former President Trump “threatened the peaceful transfer of power.” All statements attributed by defendants to the former President concern fraud or illegality in the federal election.
9 4. “Now [Eastman] is attempting to conceal a range of relevant documents behind claims of attorney-client privilege and work-product protection.” Opp. at 1. 10 11 12	As an attorney Plaintiff has a duty to “maintain inviolate the confidence, and at every peril to himself or herself to preserve the secrets of his or her client. California Business an Professions Code 6068(e)(1).
13 5. Eastman was “reminded that he was not free to use University email and computers in support of a political candidate.” Opp. at 2. 14	The in camera materials manifestly involve post-election litigation, not electioneering, campaigning, etc.
15 6. “On election night, Mr. Trump began falsely asserting, without basis, that he had prevailed...” Opp. at 3 16 17 “President Trump’s fraudulent campaign to persuade the American people that the election was in fact stolen.” Opp. at 14. 18 19 20 “based on the false pretense that the election had been stolen.” Opp. at 42. 21 22 “Despite these refutations and the absence of any evidence to support the allegations he was making, the President and his associates continued to publicly advance the narrative that the election had been tainted by widespread fraud.” Opp. at 46. 23 24 25	Defendants have not introduced evidence sufficient for this Court to conclude that claims of election fraud or illegality were false, let alone that such knowledge should be imputed to President Trump or Plaintiff in the January 4-7, 2021 time period. Defendants make no attempt to address the substance of election controversies taking place at the time, let alone subsequent developments which tend to support legitimacy of the controversies. See, e.g., Wisconsin Office of the Special Counsel, Second Interim Investigative Report on the Apparatus & Procedures of the Wisconsin Elections System, at 7-8 (March 1, 2022) (identifying numerous

1 “the evidence shows that the President 2 made numerous false statements 3 regarding election fraud.” Opp. at 47. 4 “despite no evidence of widespread 5 voter fraud.” Opp. at 50. 6 “it appears that President Trump’s false 7 statements to his supporters and 8 government officials were informed by 9 Dr. Eastman’s extensive advice that the 10 election was stolen.” Opp. at 50-51.	examples of election law violations and fraud);¹ McLinko v. Pennsylvania , No. 244 M.D. 2021 (Commonwealth Ct. of PA. Jan. 28, 2022) (holding that no- excuse mail-in balloting violated Pennsylvania Constitution).
9 7. “President Trump’s legal team and 10 his supporters took their allegations to 11 the courts, ultimately litigating and 12 losing more than 60 challenges to the 13 election results in seven states.” Opp. 14 at 3 15 “As the courts were overwhelmingly 16 ruling against President Trump’s 17 claims of election misconduct....” 18 Opp. at 5 19 “By January 6, more than 60 court 20 cases had rejected legal claims alleging 21 election fraud.” Opp. at 45	The outcomes of election related court cases are not sufficient for this Court to find as a matter of law that any claim of fraud or illegality in the 2020 election was per se false, let alone to impute such knowledge to President Trump or Plaintiff in the January 4-7 time period. Moreover, defendants make no attempt to distinguish between election cases decided on the merits versus those decided on jurisdictional or procedural grounds.
17 9. Trump “and his associates began to 18 plan extra-judicial efforts to overturn 19 the results of the election and prevent 20 the President-elect from assuming 21 office.” Opp. at 5	Defendants have not introduced evidence sufficient for this Court to find any effort to “overturn” an election.
20 10. “President Trump’s January 30, 21 2022 public statement acknowledges 22 that he was attempting to “overturn” 23 the election on January 6, 2021.” Opp. 24 at 5 n.9.	The Presidential statement quoted by defendants specifically references “fraud and many other irregularities..” https://perma.cc/6X2U-E6X2. The statement is consistent with others from the President calling for thorough investigation of election results:

	““Why not let the audit go forward and make everybody, on both sides, happy? The results will be the results. But they know it was not an honest election.... Let the Forensic Audit go, Joe. Don’t fight it.” Quoted in Josh Gerstein, Barr shoots down former prosecutor’s election-fraud claims, Politico (July 13, 2021) (emphasis added).²
11. “At the heart of these efforts was an aggressive public misinformation campaign to persuade millions of Americans that the election had in fact been stolen.” Opp. at 5	Defendants have not introduced sufficient evidence for this Court find as a matter of law that the 2020 election was devoid of material fraud or illegality, let alone to impute such knowledge to President Trump in the January 4-7 timeframe.
12. “The President and his associates persisted in making “stolen election” claims even after the President’s own appointees at the Department of Justice and the Department of Homeland Security, along with his own campaign staff, had informed the President that his claims were wrong.” Opp. at 5 “The evidence supports an inference that President Trump and members of his campaign knew he had not won enough legitimate state electoral votes to be declared the winner of the 2020 Presidential election during the January 6 Joint Session of Congress.” Opp. at 41. “The President continued this effort despite repeated assurances from countless sources that there was no evidence of widespread election fraud.” Opp. at 45.	The defendants own evidence shows that many advisers counseled President Trump that there had been material fraud or illegality in the 2020 election. On March 6 2022, former Attorney General Bill Barr stated on NBC news that “one of the things is the President was surrounded by these people who would very convincingly make the case for fraud.”

1 “At around the same time, researchers 2 working for the President’s campaign 3 concluded that several the claims of 4 fraud relating to Dominion voting 5 machines were false.” Opp. at 45. 6 “On multiple occasions, acting 7 Attorney General Rosen and acting 8 Deputy Attorney General Donoghue 9 told the President personally that the 10 Department of Justice and Federal 11 Bureau of Investigation had found no 12 evidence to substantiate claims being 13 raised by the President.” Opp. at 45- 14 46. 15 “Georgia Secretary of State Brad 16 Raffensperger likewise rebutted many 17 of the President’s allegations of fraud 18 in Georgia.” Opp. at 46.
13. “a campaign data expert told the 14 President “in pretty blunt terms” that 15 he was going to lose.” Opp. at 5	As stated above, the defendants concede that other Presidential advisers gave conflicting advice. The defendants have refused to produce this evidence. ECF 178.
16 14. “[t]he November 3rd election was 17 the most secure in American history” 18 and “[t]here [wa]s no evidence that any 19 voting system deleted or lost votes, 20 changed votes, or was in any way 21 compromised”). Opp. at 5 n.11. 22 “On November 12, 2020, CISA issued 23 a joint statement of election security 24 agencies stating: “There is no evidence 25 that any voting system deleted or lost votes, changed votes, or was in any way compromised.” Opp. at 45.	The CISA statement is not sufficient for this Court to conclude as a matter of law that no material fraud took place in in the 2020 election, let alone to impute this knowledge to Plaintiff or President Trump in the January 4-7 2021 timeframe. As plaintiff has continuously pointed out, many presidential advisers did not share that view. Also, much election related litigation and investigation took place subsequent to the November 12, 2020 CISA statement.
15. “Attorney General William Barr stated publicly that the ‘U.S. Justice Department ha[d] uncovered no evidence of widespread voter fraud that	As the defendants concede, other Presidential advisers did not agree with Attorney General Barr’s conclusion.

1 could change the outcome of the 2020
2 election....” Opp. at 5.

3 “In December, Attorney General Barr
4 publicly announced that there was no
5 widespread election fraud.” Opp. at 45

The defendants do not engage with or acknowledge publicly available evidence questioning the DOJ’s investigation of the 2020 election.
William McSwain, Letter to President Trump (June 9, 2021)(letter from former U.S. attorney stating that election investigations were to be referred to state authorities and not publicized).³

7 16. “specific allegations that Donoghue
8 and Rosen discredited to the President,
9 including ... a truck driver who had 10 allegedly driven ballots from New 11 York to Pennsylvania; suitcases of 12 fraudulent ballots allegedly counted in 13 Georgia; and the repeated scanning of 14 ballots” Opp. at 6 n.14

Defendants conclusory statement that Mr. Rosen had “discredited” various alleged election irregularities is insufficient for this Court to find such irregularities did not occur as a matter of law, let alone impute such knowledge to the President in the January 4-7 timeframe. For example, as stated in Plaintiff’s brief,
presidential advisor Cleta Mitchell strongly contended that irregularities had indeed taken place in Georgia.

14 17. “As the President and his associates
15 propagated dangerous misinformation
16 to the public, Plaintiff was a leader in a 17 related effort to persuade state officials
18 to alter their election results based on 19 these same fraudulent claims.” Opp. at 20 7.

Defendants have not introduced sufficient information for this Court to find as a matter of law that the President and his “associates”
propagated dangerous misinformation.

The defendants have also not introduced evidence that Plaintiff sought to persuade state officials to “alter” election results. As stated above, Plaintiff’s public stated position was that states should reassess their certifications in light of evidence of fraud and illegality.

cite for the proposition that legislators were requested to alter election results

10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	The defendants rely for this statement on the same news article cited above by M. Leahy. It recounts an effort to urge lawmakers to “review evidence” and “consider decertifying” in light of the evidence. Defendants have not introduced sufficient evidence for this Court to find as a matter of law that claims about the 2020 election were false, let alone impute that knowledge to the President. The call in question illustrates the dispute among presidential advisers, with advisers Cleta Mitchell, Kurt Hilbert and Mark Meadows all supporting the Georgia inquiry. The much quoted “find 11,780 votes” statement is out of context. As the transcript makes clear, it followed an extended discussion of issues with the Georgia election. The President and his team suspected a much larger pool of fraudulent votes but pointed out 11,780 was the number necessary to correct the outcome of the election. ⁵

1 20. “President Trump also took steps 2 that would have corrupted the 3 Department of Justice; he offered the 4 role of Acting Attorney General to 5 another Justice Department political 6 appointee, Jeffrey Clark, knowing that 7 Mr. Clark was pressing to issue official 8 letters to multiple state legislatures, 9 falsely alerting them that the election 10 may have been stolen and urging them 11 to reconsider certified election results.” 12 Opp. at 8.	The defendants have not introduced sufficient evidence to find impropriety on behalf of Mr. Clark, let alone that President Trump took steps to “corrupt” the DOJ through elevation of Mr. Clark.
13 21. “Mr. Trump’s team also mounted 14 an effort to obtain false election 15 certificates purporting to demonstrate 16 that the electors of seven states were 17 committed to President Trump rather 18 than President Biden.” Opp. at 8 19 20 “The certificates included false 21 statements that they were official.” 22 Opp. at 9 23 24 ““The President and Plaintiff also took 25 steps to alter the certification of electors from various states.” Opp. at 41	The defendants submit no evidence for this Court to conclude that the alternate election certificates were “false” as opposed to contingent. The defendants admit two of the seven certificates were contingent on their very face. Opp. Br. at 9 n. 26.
22. “Plaintiff advised President Trump to press an unconstitutional plan to disregard those results on January 6.” Opp. at 9.	Plaintiff has publicly defended his constitutional arguments on numerous occasions.⁶ The Supreme Court has not passed on the constitutionality of these issues.
23. “The text of the Twelfth Amendment to the Constitution clearly describes Congress’s obligation to count certified electoral votes.”	The relevant portion of the 12th Amendment states: “The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted.” It is ambiguous as to who performs the counting.

Pence) to refuse to count certified electoral votes in this context, yet that is precisely what Plaintiff suggested.” Opp. at 9. “the specific text of the Twelfth Amendment makes clear that the presiding officer cannot delay the count in this context, by instructing that the presiding officer shall “open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted . . .” It is not permissible to wait 10 days or any other extended period before counting certified electoral votes.” Opp. at 40.	Defendants here ignore numerous public statements by Plaintiff that his advice had been to delay the count rather than to “refuse to count.” The defendants offer their own legal theories as to whether a delay in counting is permissible under the 12th Amendment but offer no Supreme Court precedent in support. The Supreme Court has not considered the question.

Dr. Eastman consistently advanced the position that the 12th Amendment gives certain authority to the Vice President, and that “anything in the Electoral Count Act to the contrary is unconstitutional.” D’s Ex. Opp. at 13-14.	The quoted statements from Mr. Jacob refer to the Supreme Court’s consideration of outright rejection of electoral votes. Emails submitted by defendants quote Plaintiff as stating to Mr. Jacob that delaying the certification would have a “fair chance” in the courts. Defendants Ex. N (“I remain of the view not only would that have been the most prudent course as it would have allowed for the

4 27. “President Trump repeatedly 5 attempted to instruct, direct, or pressure 6 the Vice President, in his capacity as 7 President of the Senate, to refuse to 8 count the votes from six states.” Opp. 9 at 10.	The claim that President Trump attempted to pressure Pence “to refuse to count the votes” is belied by Defendants’ own evidence, which shows that Pence was asked to “send it back” to the States, not “refuse to count.” See Opp. at 10 n.33 (citing Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump), Twitter (Jan. 6, 2021 1:00 AM), https://perma.cc/9EV8-XJ7K) (“Mike can send it back”); Opp. at 11 n.34 (citing Donald J. 11 32. “Evidence obtained by the Select 12 Committee to date indicates that 13 President Trump’s White House 14 Counsel confronted Plaintiff before the 15 rally, and rejected Plaintiff’s advice to 16 Mr. Trump.” Opp. at 13	The Committee provides no foundation or citation for this claim.
14 33. “urging the Vice President to take 15 illegal action and refuse to count 16 electoral votes.” Opp. at 14. 17 “There is no genuine question that the 18 President and Plaintiff attempted to 19 accomplish this specific illegal result.” 20 Opp. at 42.	The email exchange cited by the Committee does not support the claim that Eastman urged the Vice President to “refuse to count electoral votes.” Rather, it repeatedly urges delay and sending the matter back to the States. See D’s Ex. N (Eastman email to Jacob at 9:32 pm on Jan. 5, forwarding Pennsylvania Legislators Letter and stating: “This is huge, as it now looks like PA Legislature will vote to recertify its electors if Vice President Pence implements the plan we discussed,” i.e., “send it back” to the States); id. (Eastman email to Jacob at 6:09 pm on Jan. 6, stating: “With all due respect, the VP’s statement today claimed the most aggressive position that had been discussed and rejected.

	‘Some believe that as Vice President, I should be able to accept or reject electoral votes unilaterally.’ We had given him a much more limited option, merely to adjourn to allow state legislatures to continue their work.”); id., Eastman email to Jacob at 9:44 pm MST: “adjourn for 10 days to allow the legislatures to finish their investigations”).

After several efforts to secure adequate information from Plaintiff, ...” Opp. at 17. “Congressional Defendants cannot specifically address documents they have not seen, many of which are scantily described in the privilege logs.” Opp. at 36	Plaintiff provided additional detail in response to Defendants’ objections, but declined to provide a level of detail that would itself reveal the substance of the privileged materials.
35. “That letter identifies the client as “Donald J. Trump for President, Inc.” Opp. at 19.	The letter explicitly describes both “Donald J. Trump, in his capacity as candidate for President of the United States, and Donald J. Trump for President, Inc.” as “collectively, ... the client.” 2d Eastman Decl., Ex. A.
36. “According to the University, whenever Plaintiff logged on to Chapman’s network during the relevant period he received a “splash screen” message stating: “Use of this computer system constitutes your consent that you’re activities on, or information you store in, any part of the system is subject to monitoring and recording by Chapman University or its agents, consistent with the Computer and Acceptable Use Policy without further	It is true that DuMontelle made such a claim, but Eastman disputes that the method he used to access University servers – a laptop and VPN connection – ever produced such a “splash screen.” 3d Eastman Decl. at ¶ ??.

notice.” Decl. of Janine DuMontelle ¶ 6, ECF No. 17-1.” Opp. at 26.
37. “Numerous documents make no reference to any pending litigation and or anticipated litigation for which these materials were prepared.” Opp. at 31	Plaintiff provided that additional detail in his response to Defendants’ objections.
38. “it would pervert the purpose of the work-product doctrine to allow Plaintiff to claim protection for his advice aimed at—to put it bluntly—overturning a democratic election.” Opp. at 32. “The apparent objective of these efforts was to overturn the results of the 2020 presidential election and declare Donald Trump the winner.” Opp. at 44	Plaintiff has stated publicly on many occasions that his advice was designed to prevent illegality and fraud from deciding a “democratic election.” Plaintiff’s publicly released memos specifically provide for the possibility that, should the legislatures determine that any illegality and fraud was not sufficient to alter the results, then “Biden wins.”
39. “Plaintiff drafted legal memoranda outlining several possible ways to ensure that Donald Trump would be named the winner of the 2020 election.” Opp. at 46.	As stated above, the memos do not on their face “ensure” President’s Trump’s reelection. The memos outline various scenarios, some resulting in a Trump victory, some resulting in a Biden victory.
40. “the Trump campaign ran two advertisements on Facebook with the same selectively edited footage and the same claim that the video showed “suitcases of ballots added in secret in Georgia.” On December 27 and 31, 2020, Acting Deputy Attorney General Donoghue again debunked this claim directly to the President.”	Defendants have not submitted sufficient evidence for this Court to find as a matter of law that no fraud existed in the 2020 Georgia Presidential election, let alone to impute such knowledge to President Trump in the January 4-7, 2021 timeframe. Defendants have also failed to account for publicly available evidence contrary to their view. A subsequent forensic audit claimed more than 4,255 duplicate ballots were double scanned and counted in Fulton County, Georgia. 3rd Amendment to Petition ¶ 222, Favorito v. Wan, No. 2020CV-343938 (Fulton Cnty Super. Ct., filed July 2,
