Civil Action No. 1:22-cv-01129-NYW-SKC

ERIC COOMER, Ph.D.,

Plaintiff

MICHAEL J. LINDELL, FRANKSPEECH LLC,
AND MY PILLOW, INC.,

Defendants

PLAINTIFF’S SECOND AMENDED COMPLAINT AND JURY DEMAND

Plaintiff Eric Coomer, Ph.D. (Dr. Coomer), by and through undersigned counsel, brings this defamation action against Michael J. Lindell (Lindell), Frankspeech LLC, and My Pillow, Inc. (collectively Defendants).

I. INTRODUCTION

1. This case arises from efforts by a wealthy businessman and his multiple media and business entities to target a private individual with false allegations of criminal conduct on a scale unprecedented in American history. Lindell and his related companies Frankspeech LLC and My Pillow, Inc. have been among the most prolific vectors of baseless conspiracy theories claiming election fraud in the 2020 election. The real-world consequences for the subjects of those lies have been devastating.

2. Throughout his efforts to undermine faith in American democracy and enrich himself in the process, Lindell and his companies have gone out of their way to target Dr. Coomer, former Director of Product Strategy and Security for Dominion Voting Systems. Defendants began this targeted defamation campaign after Lindell aligned himself with an Antifa-obsessed Colorado podcaster and conspiracy theorist, Joseph Oltmann, who had made up a story about overhearing someone identified only as “Eric, the Dominion guy” claim to have rigged the election against former President Trump on a supposed “Antifa conference call.” Oltmann claimed this supposed call happened on some unspecified date months before the election, but that he did not think to take action on the alleged plot until after the election was called for President Biden. Oltmann claimed that he later identified Dr. Coomer as the anonymous “Eric” referred to by other anonymous third parties on the supposed call by simply Googling “Eric Dominion Denver Colorado.” Days after making his false claims against Dr. Coomer, Oltmann then fabricated evidence to suggest that this Google search had occurred in late September, when it had not. Oltmann’s story is inherently implausible. Lindell, however, has a long history of publishing and amplifying any story he hears that aligns with his preconceived narrative that the election was rigged, and Oltmann’s baseless lies about Dr. Coomer soon made their way into Lindell’s rotation.

3. Since aligning himself with Oltmann, Lindell has publicly accused Dr. Coomer of being “a traitor to the United States.” He has claimed, without evidence, that Dr. Coomer committed treason and that he should turn himself into the authorities. He has published numerous statements asserting that Dr. Coomer is a criminal, that both Dr. Coomer and his counsel are part of a “criminal crime family,” and that Dr. Coomer “did crimes against the United States and quite frankly all of humanity.” Defendants have published these numerous false statements, defamatory interviews, and other dishonest content maligning Dr. Coomer on the website frankspeech.com often alongside a sales pitch for products from MyPillow. In addition, Defendants further made claims against Dr. Coomer a centerpiece of a failed “Cyber Symposium” that they organized, produced, and broadcast around the world. Defendants used the Cyber Symposium to spread misinformation, disinformation, and malinformation concerning the 2020 presidential election which served as the backdrop for the defamatory claims that Dr. Coomer was involved in rigging the election.

4. Despite Defendants’ baseless claims of election fraud being disproven by credible authorities across political parties, they persist in their campaign to profit from the “Big Lie” by destroying the lives of private individuals like Dr. Coomer. They have not acknowledged the harm they have caused, nor have they retracted any of their false statements. Instead, they made more defamatory statements during the pendency of this suit.

5. The damage caused to Dr. Coomer by Defendants’ conduct is immense. After more than fifteen years as a respected professional at the top of his field, Dr. Coomer’s reputation has been irreparably tarnished. He can no longer work in the elections industry on account of the unwarranted distrust inspired by Defendants’ lies, and now endures frequent credible death threats and the burden of being made the face of an imagined criminal conspiracy of unprecedented scope in American history.

III. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

10. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to Article VI, section 9 of the Colorado Constitution and C.R.S. section 13-1-124.

11. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendants pursuant to C.R.S. § 13-1-124 because Defendants transacted business in Colorado and committed tortious acts within Colorado.

12. Specifically, this Court has personal jurisdiction over Lindell because he committed tortious acts against a resident of the state of Colorado giving rise to this cause of action. Lindell had the knowledge and intent that: the effects of his actions would be felt in the state of Colorado; the injury would occur in Colorado; and that his defamatory messages would be directed at Colorado. See Keeton v. Hustler Magazine, 465 U.S. 770, 776-81 (1984) (finding “libel is generally held to occur wherever the offending material is circulated” and a defendant continuously and deliberately exploiting a market “must reasonably anticipate being haled into court there in a libel action”). Lindell derived his defamatory statements from Coloradan sources.¹ The subject of those statements concerned a Colorado resident and that resident’s work and employment for a business based in Colorado, making Colorado an integral focal point for his defamatory statements.² See Calder v. Jones, 465 U.S. 783, 788-89 (1984); see also Keeton, 465 U.S. at 780 (recognizing a plaintiff's residence may be relevant to the jurisdictional inquiry as it "may be the focus of the activities of the defendant out of which the suit arises"). Lindell purposefully sought a national audience and directed promotional materials to Colorado and Coloradan audiences for circulation, which were received by Coloradan audiences.³ See Keeton, 465 U.S. at 776-81.

13. This Court may exercise personal jurisdiction over Frankspeech because it committed tortious acts against a resident of the state of Colorado giving rise to this cause of action. Frankspeech had the knowledge and intent that: the effects of its actions would be felt in the state of Colorado; the injury would occur in Colorado; and that its defamatory messages would be directed at Colorado. See Keeton, 465 U.S. at 776-81. Frankspeech derived its defamatory statements from Coloradan sources and published defamatory statements that were recorded in Colorado.⁴ The subject of those statements concerned a Colorado resident and that resident's work and employment for a business based in Colorado, making Colorado an integral focal point for its defamatory

14. This Court may exercise personal jurisdiction over MyPillow because it committed tortious acts against a resident of the state of Colorado giving rise to this cause of action. MyPillow had the knowledge and intent that: the effects of its actions would be felt in the state of Colorado; the injury would occur in Colorado; and that its defamatory messages would be directed at Colorado. See Keeton, 465 U.S. at 776-81. 15. Requiring Defendants to litigate these claims in Colorado does not offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice and is permitted by the Due Process Clause of the United States Constitution. Dr. Coomer's claims arise from defamatory statements Defendants not only published in Colorado, but also from defamatory statements made and recorded in the state of Colorado that were directed at and received by Colorado audiences. Jurisdiction in Colorado provides for the efficient resolution of the claims herein.

16. Jurisdiction in Colorado provides for the efficient resolution of the claims herein. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to Colorado Rule of Civil Procedure 98 because a substantial part of the events and omissions giving rise to the claims occurred in Denver County, Colorado.

IV. FACTS

Dominion is based in Denver, Colorado and provides election support services across the United States, including from initial project implementation through election set-up, ballot layout, multiple language audio, machine set-up, and system testing. Dominion provided election related services to at least 30 different states during the 2020 presidential election.

A. The 2020 presidential election was a free and fair election.

18. The 2020 presidential election results have been verified by numerous independent entities, including government officials and agencies. State elections officials tasked with verifying the election and vote counts certified the election results across all 50 states and the District of Columbia.¹⁰ Electors met and formally cast their ballots with President Joe Biden securing 306 electoral votes and winning the popular vote by more than seven million votes.¹¹ Despite incited violence, Congress formally counted the electoral votes, and former Vice President Mike Pence declared Joe Biden the winner of the presidential election.¹²

19. On November 12, 2020, the Cybersecurity & Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA), a standalone United States federal agency under the Department of Homeland Security, issued a Joint Statement from the Elections Infrastructure Government Coordinating Council and the Elections Infrastructure Sector Coordinating Executive Committees stating:

The November 3rd election was the most secure in American history. Right now, across the country, election officials are reviewing and double checking the entire election process prior to finalizing the result.

When states have close elections, many will recount ballots. All of the states with close results in the 2020 presidential race have paper records of each vote, allowing the ability to go back and count each ballot if necessary. This is an added benefit for security and resilience. This process allows for the identification and correction of any mistakes or errors. There is no evidence that any voting system deleted or lost votes, changed votes, or was in any way compromised.

Other security measures like pre-election testing, state certification of voting equipment, and the U.S. Election Assistance Commission's (EAC) certification of voting equipment help to build additional confidence in the voting systems used in 2020.

While we know there are many unfounded claims and opportunities for misinformation about the process of our elections, we can assure you we have the utmost confidence in the security and integrity of our elections, and you should too. When you have questions, turn to elections officials as trusted voices as they administer elections.¹³

20. Former Director of CISA, Chris Krebs, after his dismissal by President Trump, acknowledged that states had transitioned to auditable voting systems with paper-based ballots that could be recounted, independent of any allegedly hacked software or hardware.¹⁴ Krebs explained that these paper ballots, when paired with state post-election checks, ensured the accuracy of the voting counts.

21. On November 16, 2020, 59 of the top computer scientists and election security experts in the country issued a joint letter affirming that no election manipulation had occurred, stating, "To our collective knowledge, no credible evidence has been put forth that supports a conclusion that the 2020 election outcome in any state has been altered through technical compromise.” They went on to note that, “Anyone asserting that a U.S. election was ‘rigged’ is making an extraordinary claim, one that must be supported by persuasive and verifiable evidence.”¹⁵

22. On December 1, 2020, then U.S. Attorney General William Barr confirmed “to date, we have not seen fraud on a scale that could have effected a different outcome in the election.”¹⁶

23. As of this filing, claims of election fraud arising from the 2020 election have been rejected by at least 86 different judges across the country, including all nine Supreme Court Justices.¹⁷ Over 60 separate lawsuits brought by President Trump’s campaign and its supporters across the country attempting to challenge the legitimacy of the election results have failed.¹⁸ With these, courts have rejected baseless allegations of widespread voter fraud raised to overcome the election results.¹⁹ Notably in one case, the

One might expect that when seeking [to disenfranchise almost seven million voters], a plaintiff would come formidably armed with compelling legal arguments and factual proof of rampant corruption, such that this Court would have no option but to regrettably grant the proposed injunctive relief despite the impact it would have on such a large group of citizens.

That has not happened. Instead, this Court has been presented with strained legal arguments without merit and speculative accusations, unpled in the operative complaint and unsupported by evidence.

Free, fair elections are the lifeblood of our democracy. Charges of unfairness are serious. But calling an election unfair does not make it so. Charges require specific allegations and then proof. We have neither here.

²⁰ Rudy Giuliani is a defendant in a separate defamation lawsuit filed by Dr. Coomer on Dec. 22, 2020, Coomer v. Donald J. Trump for President, et al., Denver District Court Case No. 2020CV34319. On May 13, 2022, the District Court denied Giuliani's anti-SLAPP motion to dismiss Dr. Coomer's claims for defamation, intentional infliction of emotional distress, civil conspiracy, and permanent injunction.

Grievance Committee there found that “there is uncontroverted evidence that respondent communicated demonstrably false and misleading statements to courts, lawmakers, and the public at large in his capacity as lawyer for former President Donald and the Trump Campaign.” It concluded that “[Giuliani’s] conduct immediately threatens the public interest and warrants interim suspension from the practice of law.”²¹ Similarly, the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan ordered sanctions against Sidney Powell,²² who had relied on Oltmann in making false allegations against Dr. Coomer in the complaint she filed in the Eastern District of Michigan. In ordering sanctions against Powell, the Court described the lawsuit as “a historic and profound abuse of the judicial process” and concluded that the “attorneys have scorned their oath, flouted the rules, and attempted to undermine the integrity of the judiciary along the way.”²³ The Texas Bar Association has filed a disciplinary action against Powell related to her abuse of the judicial process in pursuing such baseless claims.²⁴ office. The Republican-led Michigan Senate Oversight Committee, for example, issued a “Report on the November 2020 Election in Michigan” on June 23, 2021, wherein they examined various claims of voter fraud. The Committee found no basis for claims by former President Trump and his allies that there was widespread voter fraud in the 2020 election.²⁵ Similarly, a months-long Republican-led “full forensic audit” of election results in Maricopa County, Arizona, confirmed President Biden’s win, and in fact discovered that Biden had won by more votes than previously reported.²⁶

29. After the results of the election were called for President Biden, Oltmann co-hosted a Conservative Daily podcast on November 9, 2020, which served as the genesis for his false claims about Dr. Coomer.³⁵ On that podcast, he alleged to have learned almost two months earlier of a conspiracy to elect the president of the United States. Oltmann claimed he gained this information after infiltrating Antifa. Despite his interest in the election and prolific podcasting schedule, Oltmann apparently took no action at that time to report this alleged threat to democracy.³⁶ Oltmann began this podcast, saying:

Let's not sugar coat this, we're going to expose someone inside of Dominion Voting Systems specifically related to Antifa and related to someone that is so far left and is controlling the elections, and his fingerprints are in every state. So, I want you guys to understand that what we're about to show you, you have to share . . . The conversation will be about a man named Eric Coomer. C-O-O-M-E-R.

Oltmann then posted a photo of Dr. Coomer's face. Oltmann explained he had allegedly "infiltrated an Antifa conference call" sometime in late September with unknown and unverified participants. Oltmann claimed while on this purported call one of these unknown participants was referred to as "Eric" and another allegedly explained "Eric is the Dominion guy." Oltmann claimed when another unknown participant asked, "What are we gonna do if f-ing Trump wins?" the unknown "Eric" responded, which Oltmann paraphrased as, "Don't worry about the election, Trump is not gonna win. I made f-ing sure of that. Hahahaha." Afterward, Oltmann's alleged efforts to identify the unknown speakers of this purported call were limited to Googling "Eric," "Dominion," and "Denver, Colorado."³⁷ With this, Oltmann claimed he identified Dr. Coomer and Dominion Voting Systems, Inc.³⁸ In reality, however, Oltmann actually fabricated evidence of his supposed Google search on November 11, 2020, two days after his initial claims about Dr. Coomer, by deliberately altering a screenshot image to suggest the search had occurred in late September.³⁹ Unsurprisingly, at no point has Oltmann contacted Dr. Coomer to confirm his involvement in this purported call.

³⁸ Oltmann provides no explanation for how he understood "Dominion" to mean "Dominion Voting Systems, Inc." and not any of the number of other Dominion-named businesses and locations in Colorado, including, but not limited to: Old Dominion Freight Line; Dominion Life Church; Dominion Realty Group; Dominion Water & Sanitation District; either of the two Dominion Towers constituting Dominion Plaza; Dominion Mortgage; and Dominion Carpet Cleaning Inc.

30. Only after President Trump had lost the presidential election did Oltmann claim to remember Dr. Coomer and take steps to target him. Oltmann had conceived a storyline about the election—that its results were fraudulent—and consciously set out to establish that Dr. Coomer perpetuated this fraud.⁴⁰ This included accessing Dr. Coomer’s private Facebook profile. Despite no credible evidence of Dr. Coomer’s involvement in the purported “Antifa Conference Call” (or Zoom meeting), Oltmann used posts on Dr. Coomer’s Facebook profile that were critical of President Trump to allege he was the anonymous “Eric.” Oltmann also used Dr. Coomer’s position and employment with Dominion to allege Dr. Coomer was a key figure in a high-level conspiracy to rig the election against President Trump.⁴¹ These statements are baseless and unequivocally false. Dr. Coomer has no knowledge of this alleged Antifa conference call; Dr. Coomer did not participate in such an alleged call; Dr. Coomer did not make the comments Oltmann alleged were made; and Dr. Coomer did not take steps to subvert the results of the presidential election.

³⁹ In related case, Case No. 2020CV34319, Oltmann did not respond to a motion highlighting the fabrication for the Court and noting Oltmann’s multiple and implausible explanations for how the document in question was altered. The Court has since ordered Oltmann to preserve and disclose all devices (and corresponding serial numbers) on which he conducted supposed “research” on Dr. Coomer. As of this filing, Oltmann has still not complied with the February 14, 2022 Order.

31. In reality, Dr. Coomer, like many, had a private Facebook page that he shared with approximately 300 friends. He shared political views and was critical of President Trump. He reposted satire that Oltmann intentionally disregarded and held out as true. None of it was public. It remains unclear how Oltmann obtained possession of it as he has refused to disclose his source despite a court order to do so, and despite having been sanctioned for not doing so.⁴²

32. More importantly, Dr. Coomer’s professional life was separate from his personal political opinion. Dr. Coomer did not participate in political groups and did not donate to campaigns. Dr. Coomer worked with elections officials—Republican, Democratic, and independent—across the country to make sure the process was safe,

C. Oltmann spreads the conspiracy theory.

33. Oltmann began spreading his baseless allegations.⁴³ Throughout November 2020, Oltmann did numerous interviews with various conservative pundits, media personalities, and elected officials. For example, on November 13, 2020, Oltmann did an interview with Michelle Malkin⁴⁴ on her livestream #MalkinLive, where he repeated his false allegations that Dr. Coomer had participated in an Antifa conference call, that he claimed on that call that he had rigged the election, and that he did in fact rig the election. Oltmann claimed that “the treason is punishable by death” and encouraged Dr. Coomer to turn himself in to the Department of Justice. He went on to give interviews to James Hoft⁴⁵ of the right-wing blog The Gateway Pundit,⁴⁶ Chanel Rion⁴⁷ of 2020 press conference, where they repeated Oltmann’s false claims about Dr. Coomer, alongside other bizarre and false assertions about the election.

35. Throughout this time, Oltmann continued to grow more extreme in his rhetoric and conduct. He began discussing Dr. Coomer on his podcast, “Conservative Daily,” on an almost daily basis. On November 16, 2020, he described calling Dr. Coomer’s friends and threatening them with doxing and harassment if they did not provide him with harmful information about Dr. Coomer.⁵⁴ On December 5, 2020, he posted a photo of Dr. Coomer’s house to his thousands of social media followers, stating, “Blow this shit up. Share, put his name everywhere. No rest for this shitbag. Eric Coomer, Eric Coomer, Eric Coomer. This shitbag and the corrupt asshats in Dominion Voting Systems must not steal our election and our country! Eric we are watching you”⁵⁵ On December 14, 2020, he admitted to having Dr. Coomer surveilled, claiming that he had people watching Dr. Coomer’s every move and following him everywhere he went.⁵⁶ and belligerent. In addition to repeatedly asserting that Dr. Coomer can and should be put to death for treason, Oltmann has also called for his perceived enemies to be hanged “two inches off the ground, so they choke to death.”⁵⁷ He has called for mass executions of his political opponents, who he deems “traitors” to the country, including Colorado Governor Jared Polis and many U.S. Senators.⁵⁸ On his Conservative Daily podcast on December 3, 2021, for example, his former co-host Max McGuire read aloud the names of 19 Senate Republicans who had voted with Democrats to approve an 11-week stopgap spending bill. “There’s your list of 19 traitors to the American people, along with all the other traitors to the American people,” Oltmann said. “I want people to go out there and get some wood. The gallows are getting longer and longer. We should be able to build gallows all the way from Washington, D.C. to California.”⁵⁹ Later in the show, Oltmann mentioned something he claimed to have posted online calling Governor Polis a liar and a traitor. “So that’s what I sent to Governor Polis,” he said. “Gallows. I had to stretch that rope.”⁶⁰ In another of many similar instances, on December 13, 2021, Oltmann referred to “the left” as “the trash that frankly we should drag behind our car until body parts fall off.”⁶¹ More recently, Oltmann has appeared alongside Lindell allies Tina Peters

According to Oltmann, Byrne claimed that he could go to prison for "a thousand years" for what he had done if he did not receive a presidential pardon. Defendants’ knowing reliance on and re-publication of Oltmann’s defamation of Dr. Coomer—despite Oltmann’s well-publicized calls to violence, including calls for the murder of political opponents and assurances that he intends to incite actual violence—have only heightened the harm Defendants have caused Dr. Coomer, who continues to endure the burden of being the target of such threats.

prevent the peaceful transfer of power to President Biden. During the attack, Lindell posted a video to Facebook Live where he denied the events unfolding on live television. “The riots you are seeing on TV,” he said, “That’s a joke . . . Don’t believe what you are seeing on the news . . . there was some early stuff on with Antifa. I think they were plants.”⁷⁴ At the same time, and throughout the attack on the Capitol, MyPillow was offering discounts to people who used the promo code “FightForTrump” at checkout.⁷⁵

44. On January 8, 2021, Dominion Voting Systems sent another cease and desist to Lindell, again putting him on notice of specific, detailed information disproving his various unsubstantiated claims and outright falsehoods about Dominion Voting Systems.⁷⁶

45. Rather than distance themselves from such allegations in the aftermath of the attack, Lindell and MyPillow instead doubled down on their efforts to manufacture evidence, or promote manufactured evidence provided to them by others, of their preconceived narrative that the 2020 election results were not legitimate. These efforts included attempts to influence former President Trump personally, as well as close coordination with others who had publicly defamed Dr. Coomer. For example, on January 15, 2021, Lindell was photographed outside the White House awaiting an interview with the president. The photograph showed portions of a document Lindell was holding, which read in part, “Insurrection Act now as result of the assault on the” and

“martial law if necessary.”⁷⁷ Just three days later, on January 18, 2021, Lindell claimed that he was speaking with Sidney Powell at least twice a day.⁷⁸

46. On February 22, 2021, Dominion Voting Systems sued Lindell and MyPillow, alleging claims for defamation per se and deceptive trade practices, and seeking damages in the amount of $1.3 billion.⁷⁹ The heavily footnoted 115-page complaint laid out in painstaking detail the numerous ways in which Defendants’ claims of election fraud were unsupported and had in fact been proven false on numerous instances.

47. Despite having been repeatedly put on notice regarding the baselessness of their claims of election fraud, Defendants were undeterred. In their ongoing efforts to sustain their false claims that the election was rigged, Defendants eventually crossed paths with Oltmann, who had similarly persisted in knowingly and recklessly spreading lies regarding the election and having already been sued for defamation. On March 11, 2021, Lindell appeared as a guest on Oltmann’s podcast “Conservative Daily”⁸⁰ which is recorded in Colorado and published online. Oltmann’s former co-host Max McGuire started the episode by saying, “We have a special treat for everyone today, an episode that everyone has been really hoping for. We are joined today by Mr. Mike Lindell, the CEO of MyPillow, affectionately known as the MyPillow guy.” Oltmann confirmed the basis for his relationship with Defendants, stating, “I got involved in this entire election integrity issue, as you know, based on Eric Coomer. So, I got sued by Eric Coomer, and I happened to be on that call, that Dominion call. And that led me down a path, where as soon as they started attacking me, I jumped head first into it.” As the interview proceeded, Lindell sought customers for MyPillow, informing Conservative Daily listeners that they could use the podcast’s unique promotional code “CD21” to get discounts on MyPillow products. Oltmann concluded the interview by promising to promote Defendants’ forthcoming social media platform, Frankspeech, stating, “We will be a tireless advocate for MyPillow. We’ll be a tireless advocate for what we’re doing on the election integrity issue, or side, and we will make sure people know about the platform. We’ll be moving over to the platform ourselves. And we will make sure that we support you 100%.”⁸¹

48. In the following weeks, Defendants’ plans to create a social media platform where users could allegedly speak freely without fear of consequence from the platform itself began to take shape. In a March 30, 2021 interview with Eric Metaxas,⁸² Lindell explained that the new platform frankspeech.com, would be up and running within two weeks.⁸³ Lindell explained the new platform as follows:

There’s nothing like it out there. I will tell you that. Nothing like it. Imagine a YouTube, and then your YouTube is a mini Twitter. And it’s just amazing. People are talking about, you’re basically, it’s our free speech. It’s going to be everybody. All of your newscasters, your podcasters, everybody coming over. And they will be able to talk without worrying about getting kicked off

⁸² Eric Metaxas is also a defendant in Coomer v. Donald J. Trump for President, et. al., where Dr. Coomer has alleged claims for defamation, intentional infliction of emotional distress, civil conspiracy, and for injunctive relief arising from a prior defamatory interview published by Metaxas.

49. On April 19, 2021, Defendants' website frankspeech.com officially launched.⁸⁵ The new platform kicked off with a 48-hour "Frankathon" that was beset by technical difficulties and involved Defendants making a variety of election fraud claims and promising to release a new election fraud documentary, "Absolute Interference."⁸⁶

E. Defendants defame Dr. Coomer via frankspeech.com.

50. Defendants utilized Frankspeech to defame Dr. Coomer to an online audience around the world, including Colorado, where their defamatory conduct took a variety of forms, including republication of defamatory articles that had been retracted by other outlets, publication of defamatory interviews conducted by Frankspeech hosts, and publication of defamatory statements by Lindell himself.⁸⁷

51. Specifically, the Frankspeech website includes a wide variety of content, including a 24-hour livestream of "Lindell TV", links to various news articles and segments produced either by Frankspeech or by various other third-parties, a podcast page where dozens of podcasts are platformed, an online store selling a variety of MyPillow products, and a variety of links under a tab labeled "Fix2020First." Significantly, this includes re-publishing Oltmann's "Conservative Daily" podcast with almost daily publications defaming Dr. Coomer with ongoing allegations that he participated in an Antifa conference call, claimed on that call that he intended to subvert the results of the 2020 election, and then did in fact subvert the presidential election.⁸⁸

52. Additionally, the “Fix2020First” tab published by Defendants includes a link to a series of articles titled “Proof from Internet Sources.” The articles included in this section appear to be printouts from articles from various other sources that were then altered or otherwise augmented with highlights, underlined portions, and other indicia of modification before then being scanned and uploaded to the website. They promote a wide variety of false claims about the 2020 election in general and also include false claims about Dr. Coomer that expressly or implicitly state he participated in an Antifa conference call, claimed on that call that he intended to subvert the results of the 2020 election, and then did in fact subvert the presidential election.⁸⁹

53. In an article published by Defendants and titled, “Who are behind Smartmatic, Sequoia, and Dominion Voting Systems?” an unidentified author states the following about Dr. Coomer: “Eric Coomer is a [sic] Dominion’s VP, Antifa Supporter and Trump Hater. He travelled all the battleground states in 2019 and made sure that Dominion voting systems [sic] was in all of them. He said in an Antifa Conference call that he makes [sic] sure Trump will not win 2020 election [sic].”⁹⁰ These statements are unequivocally false. In reality, Dr. Coomer did not travel to every battleground state in 2019; did not and could not have “made sure” those states purchased Dominion products; did not participate in an Antifa conference call; did not claim that he had rigged the election; and did not in fact rig the election.

54. Further, on May 3, 2021, Frankspeech anchor Brannon Howse conducted an interview with Oltmann titled “Joe Oltmann Exposes Eric Coomer of Dominion Voting Systems.”⁹¹ The interview, which was more than 40 minutes long, started with Howse informing the audience that Oltmann was appearing from Colorado, and speaking on behalf of MyPillow to request that viewers purchase MyPillow products from mypillow.com. Howse began, “Again, I want to remind you before we go to our next guest in Colorado, he’s going to tell you about a live conference call with one of the leaders of Dominion voting machines. Before we go to that guest, don’t forget, go to mypillow.com if you would. Use the promo code FRANK and save up to 66%.”

55. After introductions, the interview proceeded with Howse asking Oltmann to identify Dr. Coomer for the Frank TV audience. “So you were on a phone call with Eric . . . Cooner? Is that his name again?” “Eric Coomer,” Oltmann responded. “Eric Coomer, yes.” Howse then asked, “So who is he, for those that don’t know?” Oltmann responded,

“He is the Director of Strategy and Security for Dominion Voting Systems, among other things.”

56. Oltmann then repeated his false claims about Dr. Coomer claiming to have rigged the election, stating, “And as I came in and people started speaking, um, someone interrupts a guy named Eric and somebody asked this guy named Eric, who is this guy named Eric? And somebody answers ‘Eric is the Dominion guy.’ So, I take very, very good notes. So, I started taking notes, writing down all the information that I was gathering. Somebody interrupts after they said, ‘go ahead, Eric.’ And somebody interrupts and goes, ‘What are we gonna do if f-ing Trump wins?’ And Eric responds, ‘Don’t worry about the election, Trump’s not going to win. I made f-ing sure of it.’ And then they all started laughing, right.”

57. Minutes later, Oltmann claimed that he had determined the anonymous “Eric” allegedly referred to by other anonymous speakers on the “Antifa call” was Dr. Coomer by conducting a Google search. “Now, I got off that call,’ he said, “started doing research, researched, uh, it wasn’t that brilliant even though I’m in a data company it didn’t take me much to figure out who he was. I Googled ‘Eric Dominion Denver Colorado’ and up pops all this information on Eric Coomer of Dominion Voting Systems and what he did.”⁹² Oltmann did not identify any other reliable means or expertise for identifying these alleged speakers. Howse did not ask for any evidence to support Oltmann’s assertions, nor did Oltmann disclose that he had fabricated evidence of a supposed Google search in the days after his initial claims about Dr. Coomer in order to bolster his claims.

58. Despite claiming to have uncovered a plot to subvert the presidential election months before it occurred, Oltmann then claimed to have forgotten about the “Antifa call” until a friend sent him an article about election irregularities on November 6, 2020. “As I go down the article,” Oltmann said, “guess who is in the article as the spokesperson for Dominion Voting Systems? It’s none other than Eric Coomer. So, at that point, my heart sank.” Oltmann described this supposed revelation as follows: “I knew at that moment that the voice of the American people had been completely destroyed. It was decimated, and that what we have now is in essence a communist society.”

59. Oltmann went on to describe how Dr. Coomer had sued him in Colorado for defamation. “What for?” asked Howse. “For defamation,” Oltmann responded. “Because the truth hurts, I guess.” Oltmann then described his pending motion to dismiss Dr. Coomer’s complaint pursuant to Colorado’s anti-SLAPP statute, stating, “We filed a motion to dismiss, so it’s in that, and then the anti-SLAPP motion which basically says that he has to prove I lied. It’s really hard to prove that I lied because I didn’t lie.”

60. The lengthy interview concluded with Oltmann highlighting what he believed to be the significance of his false allegations against Dr. Coomer and about his broader claims of election fraud in general. “What we’re dealing with now is not some small problem,” he said. “It is a massive problem. And if the US falls, billions of people, listen to me, billions of people across this globe will die. They will die.”

61. Throughout the entire May 3, 2021 interview, Oltmann withheld numerous pieces of information, including the facts upon which his statements about Dr. Coomer were based, that would have allowed the Frankspeech audience to make an informed opinion about the defamatory statements in the interview. For example, Oltmann did not disclose (1) how he heard about the supposed “Antifa call”, (2) how he accessed the supposed call, (3) who gave him access to Dr. Coomer’s Facebook account, (4) when he got access to Dr. Coomer’s Facebook account, (5) the identities of the other participants on the call, (6) that he fabricated evidence on November 11, 2020 in order to falsely claim that he had Googled Dr. Coomer on September 26, 2020, (7) that he repeatedly admitted both in writing and in video recordings on November 9 and November 10, 2020, that he could not confirm the identity of the individual he claims to have heard on the call, and (8) that there is not actually any evidence at all to support a single element of his claims that Dr. Coomer partook in an Antifa conference call, that he claimed on that call to have rigged the election, and that he did in fact rig the election.

62. Days later, on May 7, 2022, media outlet Newsmax admitted that there was no evidence to support the false claims about Dr. Coomer. Newsmax apologized to Dr. Coomer for the harm it had caused. Newsmax had been sued in conjunction with various other defendants in Coomer v. Donald J. Trump for President, Inc. et. al. for publishing the same claims that are at issue here. In an on-air retraction, Newsmax stated:

Since election day, various guests, attorneys, and hosts on Newsmax have offered opinions and claims about Dr. Eric Coomer, the Director of Product Strategy and Security at Dominion Voting Systems. Newsmax would like to clarify its coverage of Dr. Coomer and note that while Newsmax initially covered claims by President Trump’s lawyers, supporters and others that Dr. Coomer played a role in manipulating Dominion voting machines, Dominion voting software, and the final vote counts in the 2020 presidential election, Newsmax subsequently found no evidence that such allegations were true. Many of the states whose results were contested by the Trump Campaign after the November 2020 election have conducted extensive recounts and audits and each of these states certified the results as legal and final.

There are several facts that our viewers should be aware of. Newsmax has found no evidence that Dr. Coomer interfered with the Dominion voting machines or voting software in any way, nor that Dr. Coomer ever claimed to have done so, nor has Newsmax found any evidence that Dr. Coomer ever participated in any conversation with members of Antifa, nor that he was directly involved with any partisan political organization. On behalf of Newsmax, we would like to apologize for any harm that our reporting of allegations against Dr. Coomer may have caused to Dr. Coomer and his family. For more on this, please go to our website at Newsmax.com and read facts about Dominion and Smartmatic that you should know.⁹³

63. On May 9, 2021, Lindell appeared on Frankspeech, where he inextricably linked Dr. Coomer to Dominion Voting Systems, thus perpetuating the conflation of conspiracy theories about Dominion with Dr. Coomer himself. He made clear that he was accusing Dr. Coomer of criminal involvement in rigging the election. “It’s over for Dominion,” Lindell stated. “It’s too late to close the gate. The cows are out of the barn. Dominion, you did your best, and Smartmatic, to take our country through China. You did your best, you corrupt people, you. You tried to suppress our voice. You did it, but you failed.” Lindell then turned his attention directly to Dr. Coomer, stating:

Yeah, Eric Coomer, if I’m you right now, I am, instead of going over and making deals at Newsmax, if I’m you, I’m turning myself in and turning in the whole operation so maybe, just maybe, that you get immunity and you only get to do, I don’t know, ten, twenty years. I mean, you are disgusting, and you are treasonous. You are a traitor to the United States of America. And you know what? I can say that, just like I can about Brian Kemp and Brad Raffensberger. These are things that I have evidence of. The evidence is there. You know, it's sitting there. Well Mike, 'Why don't you turn it all in to the Supreme Court and bring it to the FBI?' Oh, it's getting to the Supreme Court, everybody.⁹⁴

64. Defendants further knew their claims about Dr. Coomer were false or had reason to doubt their veracity given that Newsmax had just issued a public retraction and apology to Dr. Coomer days prior to their own coverage of Oltmann's lies. Defendants were obviously familiar with that retraction based on Lindell's reference to Dr. Coomer "making deals at Newsmax."

65. Despite this unequivocal retraction and apology, Defendants still fully adopted and republished Oltmann's false claims about Dr. Coomer in their multiple publications in early May 2021.⁹⁵

66. This was not the first time that Defendants disregarded retractions regarding their false claims. On the Frankspeech "Proof from Internet Sources" webpage,⁹⁶ Defendants republished an article on April 4, 2021, identified as "American Thinker on Dominion Voter Fraud"⁹⁷ with allegations made that had been retracted. The American Thinker article, originally written by Andrea Widburg on November 29, 2020, contained a series of false statements involving Dominion Voting Systems and allegations of election fraud.⁹⁸ However, Defendants do not disclose that on January 15, 2021, American Thinker issued the following retraction regarding its reporting on Dominion Voting Systems, stating:

American Thinker and contributors Andrea Widburg, R.D. Wedge, Brian Tomlinson, and Peggy Ryan have published pieces on www.AmericanThinker.com that falsely accuse US Dominion Inc., Dominion Voting Systems, Inc., and Dominion Voting Systems Corporation (collectively “Dominion”) of conspiring to steal the November 2020 election from Donald Trump. These pieces rely on discredited sources who have peddled debunked theories about Dominion’s supposed ties to Venezuela, fraud on Dominion’s machines that resulted in massive vote switching or weighted votes, and other claims falsely stating that there is credible evidence that Dominion acted fraudulently.

These statements are completely false and have no basis in fact. Industry experts and public officials alike have confirmed that Dominion conducted itself appropriately and that there is simply no evidence to support these claims.

It was wrong for us to publish these false statements. We apologize to Dominion for all of the harm this caused them and their employees. We also apologize to our readers for abandoning 9 journalistic principles and misrepresenting Dominion’s track record and its limited role in tabulating votes for the November 2020 election. We regret this grave error.⁹⁹

69. The defamatory content produced and published by Frankspeech also violates its own published “Community Standards.”¹⁰³ The Community standards do not appear to detail any journalistic standards, but do state that

71. Frankspeech can and should have retracted and removed its defamatory publications in keeping with its own professed standards, but here, as elsewhere, Defendants continue to perpetuate their baseless defamation.

F. Defendants defame Dr. Coomer at the “Cyber Symposium” in Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

72. Lindell’s grasping claims of election fraud reached a new low in August 2021, when he hosted a “Cyber Symposium” (the Symposium) in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, which was created, run, and produced by Lindell, MyPillow, and Frankspeech. Defendants promoted this event through their various platforms, including their websites frankspeech.com and mypillow.com. On the MyPillow webpage, for example, Lindell posted a videotaped advertisement for the upcoming Symposium, stating:

I’m having a Cyber Symposium on August 10th, 11th, and 12th. This historical event will be livestreamed 72 hours straight on my new platform, FrankSpeech.com. You can help by getting everybody you know to go to FrankSpeech.com now. 73. On July 2, 2021, Defendants Lindell and MyPillow went on right-wing OAN to promote the event. There, acting as an agent of MyPillow, Lindell stated that “I have all of the packet captures of the whole election, if you look up what packet captures are. Packet captures are, they’re like having a movie of the whole, inside the internet, and we have every single one of them for the whole 2020 election.”¹⁰⁵ Lindell went on to state that “we’re bringing all the packet captures there. We’re bringing, inviting all these cyber forensic experts that have the right credentials, CISSP, whatever that means. I’m not even sure, but what that means.”¹⁰⁶ Lindell assured the audience that following the Symposium, “not one person on the planet can say that this isn’t real and that Donald Trump did not win eighty million to sixty-eight million, because he did.”¹⁰⁷ Frankspeech subsequently published the interview.

74. The Frankspeech webpage hosted a promotional flyer for the Symposium, highlighting in large gold letters a “$5,000,000 CHALLENGE.”¹⁰⁸ The flyer claimed that “A $5,000,000 prize will be offered to any attendee who can prove that this cyber data is not valid data from the November 2020 election.”¹⁰⁹ In capital letters, the flyer concluded by stating, “HELP SAVE OUR COUNTRY AND MAKE THIS IMPORTANT EVENT THE MOST WATCHED LIVE EVENT IN HISTORY.”¹¹⁰

75. Below the promotional flyer, published by frankspeech.com, appeared additional text explaining the Symposium and assuring its audience that the Symposium would present verifiable facts. “For our attendees, they have one goal. Find proof that this cyber data is not valid data from the November Election. For the people who are able to find the evidence, 5 million is their reward. Seems insane, right? But this is real!”¹¹¹ The ad went on to state that, “Despite the mockery, it doesn’t hide this simple truth.

Regardless of political affiliation, a corrupt election system is disastrous for all of us. That is why everyone should be fighting to find out the truth. And this 72-hour event has been put together by Mike Lindell to do just that.”¹¹²

76. Defendants engaged in a nationwide effort to invite local, state, and federal legislators to the Symposium. These legislators are some of the same individuals that Dr. Coomer interacted with and would still be interacting with as part of his professional responsibilities as Director of Strategy and Security for Dominion Voting Systems. This extensive outreach prior to the Symposium increased the likelihood that election officials from across the country would either attend or view the Symposium live on FrankSpeech.

77. On the first night of the Symposium, Tina Peters,¹¹³ the county clerk and recorder for Mesa County, Colorado, took the stage with other Colorado election fraud conspiracy theorists, including Shawn Smith, and claimed that her office had been “invade[d]” and “raided” by investigators with the Colorado Secretary of State’s office, who were conducting an investigation into a potential breach of election security systems. The investigation was launched after materials from the Mesa County Clerk’s office were identified on the Telegram account of Ron Watkins, a right-wing conspiracy theorist

widely believed to be the individual behind the “QAnon” conspiracy theory.¹¹⁴ The next day, Watkins appeared remotely at the conference to discuss the stolen data, only to abruptly claim that his lawyer had just instructed him to say that the files were from hard drives that were taken “without authorization” from the Mesa County Clerk’s office. Watkins then stated that, “we should stop this data review.”¹¹⁵ Watkins went on to state that he had received the stolen data from Sherrona Bishop, former campaign director for U.S. Representative Lauren Boebert.¹¹⁶

78. Despite the surprise appearance of Tina Peters, the work of actually inspecting the supposed “packet captures” or “PCAPS” that Defendants claimed would reveal foreign interference in the 2020 election continued. By day two of the Symposium, the outright falsity of Defendants’ claims with respect to the alleged “evidence” they claimed to possess had become widely apparent.

79. Defendants’ own “cyberexpert” Josh Merritt,¹¹⁷ who was hired by Defendants to serve on their so called “red team,” stated that “our team said we’re not going to say that this is legitimate if we don’t have confidence in the information.” Merritt

¹¹⁷ Prior to working with Lindell, Merritt provided an affidavit to Sidney Powell, where he was identified with the pseudonym “Spyder” and described as being a “military intelligence expert.” In reality, Merritt was an army mechanic who never completed an entry-level training course for military intelligence. went on to state, “We were handed a turd. And I had to take that turd and turn it into a diamond. And that’s what I think we did.”¹¹⁸ In a subsequent interview,¹¹⁹ Merritt confirmed that Defendants knew the information they intended to present at the Symposium was fraudulent but proceeded anyway in willful avoidance of the truth. “In the days leading up to the Symposium, we found that the information did not hold up to what Lindell claimed,”¹²⁰ said Merritt. “The days leading up to the Symposium, the 10th and the morning of the 11th, we kept telling Lindell, ‘Hey, this information is not what is claimed.’ And he wouldn’t have it. Even his own attorney told him, ‘Look, there’s some problems here.’”¹²¹ Merritt went on to state that Defendants knowingly concealed their knowledge of the falsity of the information presented to the public, stating, “All of the precursor information was showing not to be legitimate. So he just decided to hide that type of information from the public, but still talk about PCAPS.”¹²² Merritt went on to state, “You can’t stop fraud by then being involved in more fraud, because all that’s going to do is destroy what you’re doing.”¹²³

80. Another expert at the Symposium described the information “revealed” to the attendees as “random garbage that wastes our time.”¹²⁴ Upon realizing that attendees had become aware that this “evidence” was clearly fraudulent, Defendants then attempted to quietly withdraw the $5 million reward.¹²⁵ Here again, Merritt confirmed that Defendants were knowingly committing fraud, stating:

And then Lindell got mad because I disclosed a lot of this, disclosed the dishonesty that was going on backstage. He knowingly frauded the cyber experts that were there by saying that there was a five million dollar reward to prove that his information was wrong, but he knew that no one would be able to win it because when we were in the red team room, he checked with his lawyer to make sure that it was worded so that nobody could win.¹²⁶

81. As word spread that Defendants had no proof that any election fraud had occurred, news also broke that the federal court in Washington D.C. had denied Lindell and MyPillow’s motion to dismiss the $1.3 billion defamation lawsuit filed against them by Dominion Voting Systems in February 2021.¹²⁷ Upon being apprised of the news,

Lindell rushed offstage in the middle of a presentation by another speaker.¹²⁸ Lindell did not leave the symposium at this time, however, and instead continued to appear onstage with various speakers, including Joe Oltmann.

82. Lindell, or someone acting on his behalf, had invited Oltmann to speak at the Symposium, and Oltmann traveled back to Colorado from the Symposium onboard Lindell's private jet.

83. Undeterred by the chaos unfolding around him, Defendants proceeded with the Symposium, where they brought Oltmann onstage to defame Dr. Coomer at length, as they knew he would, and to impugn the credibility of the judiciary as a whole, all while publishing the entire event live online. Oltmann, who had been ordered to appear for a deposition in Denver that same day, appeared onstage with fellow conspiracy theorists David Clements, Phil Waldron, Patrick Colbeck, and Josh Merritt.

84. Oltmann introduced himself to the audience, saying “My name is Joe Oltmann. I was the CEO of a tech company. I had to resign. I was the one who came forward with the information about Eric Coomer of Dominion Voting Systems.” Oltmann then went on to present a series of falsehoods as absolute truth, stating, “So I’ve studied Dominion, like literally every manual, diagram, RFP, um, I got sued by Eric Coomer for defamation. By the way, I just want to say publicly to whoever is listening, I never lied. And I would never ever, ever put somebody’s name out there if I wasn’t 100% sure that he was the one that was on the call with Antifa, and at the time I didn’t know who he was.” In reality, Oltmann has no meaningful knowledge of how Dominion machines operate, has repeatedly admitted that he could not conclusively identify Dr. Coomer on the supposed Antifa call,¹²⁹ and has been rebutted by multiple witnesses who have submitted sworn affidavits disputing his implausible claims.

¹²⁹ Joe Oltmann, Dominion, Big tech, and how they stole it, CONSERVATIVE DAILY PODCAST, Nov. 9, 2020, at 16:01 (Oltmann: “As the call carried on, a person who called himself Eric was on the call. Now I can’t tell you if it was the same Eric but I’m going to tell you how it led me to gather the rest of this information.”); at 17:10 (Oltmann: “So Eric continues to fortify, so this person Eric continues to fortify groups and recruiting and he was eccentric and very boisterous compared to what I remember hearing in his other videos. I think it’s a match but I can’t be sure so I’m going to put that out there, but I can be sure of everything else I’m about to share with you.”); at 52:52 (Oltmann: “Let me put this all together for you guys, so you have a guy that is actually going to an Antifa meeting that tells somebody else, supposedly, that he’s got the election in hand,” McGuire: “Well not supposedly, you heard it. Not supposedly, you heard it. You’re an eye witness.” Oltmann: “But I didn’t see him, right? They identified him as Eric from Dominion, but I didn’t, I mean, I have to basically say that there could be, maybe it’s a different guy, but that led me to all the other things that I got, which is, getting access to Facebook, getting access to this information.”) (Emphases added).

85. Later in the discussion, another member of the panel, David Clements, provided the audience with context for Oltmann's statements by asking a series of leading questions. That exchange occurred as follows:

Clements: "Ok, so let's connect another dot really quick. You need to keep in mind that one of the major players is Eric Coomer. Eric Coomer was or is a vice president of Dominion systems. And what particular title does he have as vice president?"

Oltmann: "He was the Director of Security and Strategy for Dominion Voting Systems. He holds the adjudication patent that was assigned to, I think HSBC, as a guarantor on it."

Clements: "Well follow me here, there's a few other questions. You mentioned that your presiding judge was marching in Antifa rallies last summer."

Oltmann: "Yes."

Clements: "Were you not the person who disclosed screenshots of social media posts that also shows that Eric Coomer has deep ties with Antifa?"

Oltmann: "100%."

Clements: "Ok, and were you not also on a phone call with Eric Coomer, or some recording where he made a particularly controversial statement about our then president?"

Oltmann: "Yeah, so, uh, yes."

Clements: "And what was that statement?"

Oltmann: "He said that, uh,-"

Waldron: "He's in full on lawyer mode."

Oltmann: "Yeah he is in lawyer mode, I'm like yes sir! 'Don't worry about the election. Trump's not going to win. I made f-ing sure of it.' I'm a Christian so I'm not going to use that word up here."

86. Oltmann then digressed with additional commentary about his beliefs on the corruption of the court, and Clements later rejoined, “You’ve got a truth teller over here in Joe Oltmann, who is trying to tell you about his odyssey through all of these things.” At the conclusion of the discussion, Patrick Colbeck thanked Lindell, who he credited for sponsoring publication of the lengthy attack on both Dr. Coomer and the Denver District Court, stating, “This is a point of hope for everyone here. Despite them trying to keep us silent for nine months, for this election here, here we are in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, because of the leadership of Mike Lindell, and him being able to risk everything to get us all together. We are here to talk about this, and we are not being quiet. No more being quiet.”

87. Following the panel discussion, Defendants went on to publish another presentation prepared by Clements, which he titled “The Vote Trafficking Parable.” Clements then described a murder investigation involving a drug trafficking gang in New Mexico, the “AZ Boys.” Clements claims to have partaken in the investigation while working as a prosecutor years prior. Clements then analogized executives at Dominion Voting Systems and local elections officials to members of the drug trafficking gang. He displayed photos of various individuals, stating, “That’s [CEO of Dominion Voting Systems] John Poulos, we’ve got Eric Coomer, we’ve got [Maricopa County Recorder] Adrian Fontes, we’ve got the Maricopa County board of supervisors. So in one case we’ve got the AZ Boys, and in the other case we’ve got the Maricopa County Board of Supervisors trafficking our votes.”

88. As the “parable” continued, Clements made clear that was comparing Dr. Coomer to the “trigger man” in the story about the AZ Boys. He stated:

Alright, so you’ve got a couple of hitmen that were pulling the triggers. The first gentleman, if you know, is John Poulos, who is the CEO of Dominion. When he gave those remarks, it was before the legislature, under oath. John Poulos committed perjury, time and time again. The other gentleman at the end was a person we’ve heard about because of Joe Oltmann. Eric Coomer, who holds the patent for the feature known as adjudication, which is one of the tools in their tool chest to murder the American people’s vote. And this is one of the statements he made along with, when Joe Oltmann talked about being on the call, this is what he heard. And you heard from Joe Oltmann. You can assess whether you think he’s telling the truth. ‘I made f-ing sure that Trump’s not going to win.’ That’s the vice president of a company that’s running elections in 28 states. You’ve got your election cartel, you’ve got your vote trafficking organizations, and you have the man that pulled the trigger.

89. In an apparent threat directed at Dr. Coomer and others, Clements went on to state, “So my message for some of you out there in the vote trafficking world, it’s not too late for you to get some lenience, because we’re going to get you one way or the other.”

with Chinese Characteristics.” In this convoluted and contradictory presentation attempting to draw some connection between China and Dominion Voting Systems, Oltmann went on to again defame Dr. Coomer, stating, “I think that my only nexus involved in this deal was uncovering the information that I had related to Eric Coomer, and that he was in a position where he could affect the election, and that from there, all of the other evidence that’s come forward about Dominion.” In reality, Dr. Coomer was not in a position to affect the election, and Oltmann has never “uncovered” information suggesting otherwise.

91. Oltmann went on to again falsely assert that Dr. Coomer partook in an Antifa call where he supposedly bragged about the election. “I will accept the truth,” he falsely stated. “I’ll even accept that maybe Eric Coomer got on that and it was hyperbolic, right? That he just wanted to puff his chest and have a little bit of him. I’d accept that if all the other indicators didn’t show that we had a massive fraud on the American people. I’m a realist.”

92. Every speaker who appeared onstage at the Cyber Symposium was vetted and pre-approved by Lindell or someone working on Lindell’s behalf with Lindell’s knowledge and consent.

93. Defendants used the Cyber Symposium as a vehicle to promote the newly established website Frankspeech.com. During the three days of the Symposium, from August 10-12, 2021, the FrankSpeech website had 13,986,053 pageviews. This was the most pageviews FrankSpeech had ever had until that point over a comparable period. Upon information and belief, no subsequent 3-day period has ever reached anything comparable to the user engagement that FrankSpeech enjoyed during the three days of the Symposium.

94. Defendants also used the Symposium to drive sales of MyPillow products. They did this by utilizing several unique promo codes that were associated with the Symposium. For example, in the days leading up to the Symposium, Lindell promoted the promo code “Frank33” in association with promotions for the Symposium. From August 2-15, 2021, the Frank33 promo code generated $1,832,500 in revenue for MyPillow, with $850,100 of that sum accruing just in the three days of the Symposium from August 10-12.

95. Lindell and MyPillow also utilized the promo code “Audit” to encourage sales of MyPillow products during the Symposium. During a live presentation onstage at the Symposium on August 12, 2021, Lindell stated:

I want to say one more thing. You know, they, before this Symposium, the media, the media said he’s only doing this to run MyPillow ads. And then if you remember when Dominion sued me, they said they sued MyPillow and they said he’s only doing this to make money, giving out promo codes. Well today you can save up to 66%, and use promo code “Audit.” That will be the best savings. You can go to mypillow.com or frankspeech.com. Use promo code “Audit.”

96. By the next day, August 13, 2021, MyPillow customers utilizing the promo code “Audit” had already purchased at least $442,449 in MyPillow products.

97. Every defamatory statement made about Dr. Coomer at the Symposium was published by Defendants Lindell, MyPillow, and Frankspeech.

G. Lindell continues to target Colorado with election falsehoods.

98. Since the Symposium, Defendants have maintained close relationships with various Colorado election fraud conspiracy theorists, including Joe Oltmann, Tina Peters, Sherrona Bishop, Shawn Smith, Ashe Epp, Holly Kasun, and others.¹³⁰ For example, Lindell is now funding the Colorado-based right-wing group Cause of America. Smith told Steve Bannon that “Mike Lindell is kind of the angel investor, and the purpose of Cause of America is to enable the grassroots organizations across the country who are doing election integrity.”¹³¹

99. More recently, Lindell’s private jet has been recorded ferrying election fraud conspiracy theorists to and from Colorado, including shortly after Tina Peters was arrested for allegedly obstructing a peace officer and obstructing government operations.¹³² When contacted with questions about his work in Colorado, Lindell stated, “Peters did nothing but be a patriot and make a copy of a corrupt thing. As the county clerk, she made a copy. She was supposed to do it. By the way, did you know other clerks in Colorado did that too? Same thing! And we have – it’s not just her.”¹³³ Lindell went on to echo the calls for violence recently issued against elected officials in Colorado, stating, “Because in Colorado, they deleted the whole 2020 election! And guess what? We have what they deleted! They’re all going to prison, period. And [Secretary of State] Jena Griswold is number one on the list.”¹³⁴

H. Defendants’ post-lawsuit defamation blitz.

100. Dr. Coomer filed his lawsuit in Denver District Court on April 4, 2022. On April 5, 2022, Defendant Lindell held a “Colorado Election Truth Rally” on the steps of the Colorado State Capitol, where he and others gathered to tell lies about the election.

101. Defendants were served with Plaintiff's Original Complaint on the steps of the Capitol just prior to the commencement of Lindell's speech, while Lindell was being escorted through the crowd by Oltmann's personal bodyguard and occasional Conservative Daily co-host, Gregory Papas.¹³⁵ Immediately after being served, Lindell retreated to a nearby tent to review the Complaint alongside Joe Oltmann, who had also accompanied Lindell to the rally.

102. Lindell then proceeded to give a lengthy speech where he promulgated a variety of outright falsehoods before turning his attention to Dr. Coomer. Referring to non-existent election fraud, Lindell again asserted the defamatory falsehood that Dr. Coomer had committed a crime, stating, “It started with Eric Coomer and Dominion based right here in Colorado. By the way, he just sued me as I walked up on the stage. Just sued me, I just got papers. Thanks, Eric! Now Eric will be the first one behind bars when we melt down the machines.” Following the speech, Lindell informed a local news outlet that he had donated as much as $800,000.00 to indicted candidate for Secretary of State Tina Peters’ criminal defense fund.¹³⁶

103. The next day, Frank Speech published Lindell issuing another lengthy defamatory tirade against Dr. Coomer, wherein he stated the following:

So everybody, if you want to know just how corrupt, the corruption we're up against. Eric Coomer served, had served papers to me before I was going onstage at the Capitol. I've never talked about Eric Coomer. He's the, apparently he's the president of Dominion, the criminal crime family here in Denver. I guess he's the guy that ran into a building the other day and took off and ran or whatever. Who knows what he did there, but anyway, he served papers, everybody. He has sued, everybody ready for this? Mike Lindell, Frank Speech, and My Pillow.

Eric Coomer, you are a criminal. Eric Coomer, your lawyers better look out. I'm not putting up with this. My Pillow doesn't even know who you are. My employees, I have 2,700 employees. Shame on you Eric Coomer. You did a very, very stupid move, Mr. Coomer. You're going to be the first one, right behind Rafsenberger [sic] and Jena Griswold behind bars. You're #1 on my list. You go after my employees, go after my company again, you're disgusting. You belong behind bars. I hear you ran into a building drunk the other day or whatever you were. You know, whatever you did, "allegedly" [using sarcastic tone] I'll say that so the lawyers don't, so I don't "allegedly" accuse you of something you haven't done, but I will accuse you of this. You've been a part of the biggest crime this world has ever seen. Eric Coomer, president of Dominion, you have even said what you did or what you were going to do. You're disgusting. You're disgusting, you're evil, you belong behind bars, and we will not stop until you are behind bars. We're going to melt down your little machines and you're going to hang on to your little prison bars. "Let me out, let me out!" Should have thought about that, Eric Coomer, before you did crimes against the United States and quite frankly all of humanity. It's disgusting what you've done. You and Dominion. And Jena Griswold.¹³⁷

105. To be clear, none of this is hyperbole. Lindell means every word, and he intends for his audience to know that he means what he is saying. His claim that ¹³⁸ Supra ¶ 63.

Dr. Coomer “even said what [he] did or [he was] going to do” confirms that Lindell was referring to the alleged “Antifa call.” That Lindell intends this series of outright falsehoods to be heard and understood as statements of fact is evidenced by his demeanor while making the statements, and by his repeated publication of those same accusations over the following days and weeks.

106. For example, the very next day, April 7, 2022, Lindell was a guest on Steve Bannon’s “War Room” podcast, where the following defamatory exchange took place:

Lindell: I got served by Eric Coomer two days ago, right when I was going to speak at the Capitol in Colorado. And I got served papers, another lawsuit, Eric Coomer, you know, he was the head of Dominion. So, instead of saying hey, we don’t have anything to hide, well it’s too late now. We already have what they were hiding. All it is another attack.

Bannon: But why would Coomer’s lawyers say, “Hey, we’ve heard what Mike Lindell has to say in the last ten days, and we’re going to go sue him again?” Why would they, logically, if they think you have the receipts, why would they do that?

Lindell: Because the lawyers are criminals too. We’re gonna go after them now. I’m going after them. It’s like a criminal crime family, Steve. It’s a big criminal crime family. These machine companies, we now, I’ll just bring this up so this can scare them a little bit, we have reason to believe now after we’ve talked to five different whistle blowers from five different states that all, all of our overseas military votes were for Biden. The ones that were emailed in, which was ninety some per cent of all emailed in. They’re using a national email system, Steve. It’s disgusting.

107. This is all absurd nonsense. Dr. Coomer filed this lawsuit not to hide anything, but to expose the truth. Lindell does not “have what [Dr. Coomer was] hiding” because Dr. Coomer is not hiding anything. Dr. Coomer’s lawyers are not criminals either, nor are they part of a criminal crime family. And Dr. Coomer certainly isn’t “scared” of yet another ridiculous falsehood that military votes are “all emailed in.” That Lindell would so confidently publish such utter nonsense further confirms his reckless disregard for the truth in order to sustain his preconceived narrative that the election was rigged.

108. The next day, April 8, 2022, Lindell again went on to publish falsehoods against Dr. Coomer, this time on the radio show of Eric Metaxas.¹⁴⁰ As he frequently does, Lindell confirmed here too that he was appearing on Metaxas's show as an agent for MyPillow, and that MyPillow continues to finance his defamation campaign against Dr. Coomer. Lindell stated:

I want to thank all your listeners, all your watchers, all the people that watch your show for supporting My Pillow because here it is folks. Yet another attack. I was just sued. I did a speech at the Capitol in Colorado, speaking out for the election crimes of 2020, and here they served me papers. Eric Coomer, one of the higher ups at Dominion sued My Pillow! My Pillow and Frank Speech. Either they don't want my voice out there and that also, Eric, twelve TV stations, now granted they're smaller stations, but they just notified me that they don't want me in the My Pillow commercials any more.

109. Metaxas readily acknowledged that Lindell's efforts to spread lies about the election were paid for by MyPillow, stating, "Well listen, I say to my audience, if you want to support Mike, and I hope you do, go to mypillow.com and mystore.com and spend money there. And if you want to support this program, use the code "Eric."

110. On the same day, April 8, 2022, Lindell received an email at his MyPillow email address from Robert Herring, the CEO of Herring Networks, Inc. dba One America News Network (OAN). Both OAN and its Chief White House Correspondent, Chanel Rion, are named defendants in Coomer v. Donald J. Trump for President, Inc. et. al. The email had been forwarded to Robert Herring by his son, Charles Herring, before Robert sent it to Lindell. The subject line of the email was “Eric Coomer information.” Less than three hours later, Lindell responded, “Came through! Thank you! Mike Lindell, CEO MyPillow, Inc.”

111. The email from Robert Herring attached an Excel spreadsheet named “Coomer contacts 1.” The spreadsheet contains eleven tabs, many of which contain names and contact information for individuals from Dr. Coomer’s different social circles. For example, a tab labeled “EC Relatives contacts” includes the names, home addresses, telephone numbers, dates of birth, and current employment information of Dr. Coomer’s relatives. Another tab labeled “EC Facebook contacts” includes the name, current residence, employment information, education background, and other personal information about more than 70 of Dr. Coomer’s Facebook friends. Another tab labeled “Combined list of Employees” includes similar identifying information for 309 different employees of Dr. Coomer’s former employer, Dominion Voting Systems.

112. Even more concerning, the spreadsheet includes a tab labeled “Passwords.” This tab includes the email addresses and passwords for 197 different employees of voting system companies Smartmatic, Inc. and Election Systems & Software, LLC (ES&S). Like Dominion, these companies provide election support services across the United States and around the world. Alongside this highly sensitive information is a note that reads “N.B. I have not tried these yet – search database in first tab and try passwords with other email accounts in case they use the same password.”

113. In addition to demonstrating an unsettling degree of obsession with Dr. Coomer's personal life and acquaintances, the spreadsheet provides unequivocal evidence of efforts, perhaps already successful, to hack the email accounts of hundreds of different election workers across the country and around the world. The unlawful intent implied by this compilation of information is self-evident. This information presents a real and immediate threat to election integrity in multiple states and countries.

114. Upon information and belief, neither Lindell nor anyone acting on MyPillow's behalf contacted law enforcement to alert them to the contents of the spreadsheet, nor did Lindell make any apparent efforts to destroy or reject the information provided by Robert Herring.

115. A few weeks later, during an interview with RSBN on May 6, 2022, where Lindell was again speaking at a rally promoting lies about the election, he once again removed all doubt that his statements regarding election fraud are consistently made within the scope of his employment with MyPillow, and within the scope of his role as president and CEO of MyPillow. Speaking very directly to his efforts to spread election fraud falsehoods, and not with reference to any other type of public engagement or any other civic engagement, Lindell stated:

Everything, you name it, everything is on sale today. This is a very important day. All of these rallies are so important because it gets the word out. So if you guys want to support both RSBM, myself, My Pillow, everything I'm doing, everything we're all doing together, people say 'Mike, well what can I do?' You know what, you can buy something right now and use promo code RSBN. I take all that, and believe me, I can, if you call my company, every dime I get I just pour it back in to help this country.

116. On May 23, 2022, Lindell again appeared on Oltmann’s “Conservative Daily” podcast. After complaining that his attorneys had recently been sanctioned for filing frivolous counterclaims in one of the various defamation lawsuits that he is currently facing,¹⁴¹ Lindell went on to again defame Dr. Coomer after Oltmann stated, “You also got sued by Eric Coomer.” Lindell responded:

Eric Coomer. Look at the timing of that. So here we are in Colorado, on the steps of the Capitol, and Eric Coomer, I’m not even sure on that. What is his basis? You want to talk about frivolous lawsuits, people, that’s unbelievable. Eric Coomer, who are you other than some corrupt person who was with Dominion, one of the most corrupt people. He’s one of them that’ll definitely be with all the others when we melt down the machines being right behind the bars going ‘Let me out! Let me out! I’m sorry!

117. Defendants’ personal and financial ties to Oltmann continued to develop and grow throughout 2022. On July 13, 2022, Lindell again appeared on the Conservative Daily podcast,¹⁴² we he again appeared as an agent of MyPillow and discussed theories about election fraud at length. Lindell promoted a new election conspiracy theory event, the “Moment of Truth Summit” which was later held on August 20-21, 2022. Lindell stated that “four million people” had viewed the Cyber Symposium, and praised its effect on the spread of election fraud narratives nationwide. He stated, “Everything out of the Cyber Symposium a year ago, everybody went back to their states and planted seeds. That was so important to get the word out, and the seeds were planted. Now we have millions of people in every state.” Again leaving no doubt that he was appearing as an agent of MyPillow, and that sales of MyPillow products directly fuel Lindell’s attacks on election integrity nationwide, Lindell stated:

Put up your promo code, Joe. [Showing MyPillow banner with promo code]. Now is the time. That’s CD21, and you can get that pillow for $19.88. This helps me. I need your support right now more than ever. I am back here right now, everything that’s going on with our stuff going up. By the way, we also have $39.99 sheets, that’s the queen size! I’m putting all this because everything I get, Joe, every dollar I get that comes to me, and again the fake news media, can check it out. Horrible Alan Duke, the fact checker from Facebook, check it out Alan. I ran my account, I cash out every day, every day down to zero putting out money to cyber experts, lawyers, everything in this country to do what I can.

118. In another confirmation of the close ties between Defendants and Oltmann, on September 5, 2022, Defendants Lindell and FrankSpeech hired one of Oltmann’s companies, Pidoxa, to run the FrankSpeech website. Oltmann drafted the contract for Pidoxa’s services, which totals roughly $1.9 million per year.

¹⁴² See Joe Oltmann, Taking Back Our Country With Mike Lindell, CONSERVATIVE DAILY PODCAST, July 13, 2022.

119. Days later, on September 7, 2022, FrankSpeech published another interview defaming Dr. Coomer,¹⁴³ this time with former Mesa County Clerk Tina Peters. Peters had just been served with a subpoena issued by Dr. Coomer seeking document production and deposition testimony. Peters was then interviewed by Brannon Howse on FrankSpeech, where she and Howse repeated the false allegations against Dr. Coomer. The interview began with the following exchange:

Peters: Before I walked in, I was served by a subpoena, that, get this Brannon. It's from Eric Coomer. Everybody knows who Eric Coomer is, right?

Howse: For those who don't, tell us who he is.

Peters: Eric Coomer is the, I won't even call him a gentleman. I will call him Antifa. I will call him Dominion. The one that did the software he bragged about.

120. Peters' livestream connection then briefly disconnected. When the interview resumed, Howse continued encouraging Peters, and the following exchange occurred:

Howse: So Tina, you were mentioning the man that you were subpoenaed by. He worked at one time for Dominion, is that correct?

Peters: That's right. He was the one who was in charge of the patents for the algorithm that is inside the Dominion voting machine and actually bragged on an Antifa call that he was a member of that he would make sure that Trump wouldn't get in. That he made f-ing sure of it. And that's what got Joe Oltmann. Joe Oltmann was on that call and that's what got him involved in the fight a few years ago. Well, Eric Coomer is now subpoenaing me against our beloved patriot Mike Lindell and this is going to happen November 7 right here in Grand Junction where they're going to subpoena me and interrogate me to try to gin up some kind of information about our patriot Mike Lindell. Not gonna happen. It's like, throw another one on the pile like Mike says. But nevertheless, their assault keeps coming.

121. Virtually every one of these statements is objectively false. Dr. Coomer is not “Antifa.” He did not “brag” about any software. He was not “in charge of the patents for the algorithm that is inside the Dominion voting machine,” nor is there any such vote manipulating “algorithm.” He did not partake in an Antifa call, or any activist call, and did not claim on any such call that he would make sure Trump did not win. Joe Oltmann did not participate in any such call either. The entire story is a made up, defamatory lie intended to make Dr. Coomer the face of the false claims that the 2020 presidential election was rigged.

122. Throughout the interview, the phrase “Use Promo Code B66 At MyPillow.com To Save Up to 66%” was featured prominently on screen.

123. Prior to and during this interview, Howse was familiar with the allegations against Dr. Coomer, knew that they were the subject of multiple defamation lawsuits, including this one, and he knew that Dr. Coomer denied the false allegations. He knew that Oltmann’s story was premised entirely on anonymous sources, that Oltmann had never provided any evidence to support his story, that Oltmann’s claims were inherently improbable, and that claims of election rigging had been conclusively debunked by numerous credible sources. Nonetheless, he still encouraged Peters to repeat those lies on air, even raising the topic again himself after a break.

124. On September 13, 2022, the FBI detained Lindell at a Hardee’s Restaurant in Minnesota and confiscated his cell phone in connection with an ongoing criminal investigation.¹⁴⁴ Lindell's close friend Oltmann immediately responded to the news by flying to Minnesota to be with Lindell. On his September 14, 2022 Conservative Daily podcast,¹⁴⁵ Oltmann confirmed that "I'm at Mike's house. I'm with him in Minnesota now." Oltmann went on to talk about his discussions with his attorneys and their concern for his own potential liability, stating:

So let me tell you what happened yesterday. I was on an airplane coming up here and my lawyer called me. She said Joe, you heard about the thing that happened with Mike? And I go, yeah, I did. And she says well we're concerned that you're next. And I was like, okay. I have several attorneys, and they do care about me, so they just said, hey listen, this apparatus is going to, they're going to lie, cheat, and steal. And I was like well, then they're going to lie cheat and steal anyway. But I'm not going to be quiet. I'm not going to settle down. And frankly, I'm going up to see Mike. They say, where you going? I said I'm going up to see Mike. I'm headed up there. They were like Joe, you have to be careful. Protect your phone.

125. The next day, Oltmann recorded his Conservative Daily podcast from inside Lindell's personal home office.¹⁴⁶ Both men again proceeded to defame Dr. Coomer at length. Oltmann posited a series of lies to suggest that Dr. Coomer rigged the 2020 election, stating:

We've talked about the Coomer issue. I mean, Coomer is a left wing wingnut who said that he hates America, hates police officers, that he's anti-Trump. This is the guy that runs 50% of the vote, and the systems that he developed, attribution modeling, excuse me, adjudication modeling, all of these same systems, all of the same schematics are used across the board. And ES&S, Smartmatic, Diebold, they're all the same, right? Hart? And the reason I brought up Diebold is yes they were sold, but some of those systems are still being used.

126. Lindell then chimed in, promising to continue defaming Dr. Coomer while casually dismissing the seriousness of this dispute. Lindell stated:

Well he sued me, in Colorado, at the Colorado Capitol, and I've got a big bouquet of microphones and this guy comes up and sues me, I don't even know who Coomer is! I go okay, put it on the pile, this lawsuit. I don't even know how I could bad mouth the guy I didn't know who he was. But I will bad mouth him. If I had known that, I certainly would have. So he sued me before I had a chance to go after him. You know, that's wrong Joe, it's just wrong. At least let me do something so I can get sued!

127. In reality, Lindell knew exactly who Dr. Coomer was, and had already defamed him numerous times over multiple publications spanning more than a year in time, as discussed above.

128. Continuing in this pattern of publishing additional defamatory statements while this case is pending, Lindell again appeared for another interview with Brannon

Howse on FrankSpeech months later, on March 10, 2023.¹⁴⁷ This interview took place shortly after the 30(b)(6) depositions of Defendants MyPillow and FrankSpeech taken in this case, on March 8 and 9, respectively. Acting both in his individual capacity and as an agent for MyPillow, Lindell spoke in this interview at length about the substance of his deposition testimony, his grievances against this Court, and his ongoing and vehement belief that both Dr. Coomer and his counsel are criminals. Howse posted an image of the cover page of Dr. Coomer's lawsuit, and Lindell stated:

Eric Coomer everyone. It says Mike Lindell, Frankspeech, and MyPillow Inc. Ok, everybody see that? This guy, this Eric Coomer sued Mike Lindell, Frankspeech, and MyPillow Inc. So everybody, you know what I did? I seen that and I had heard this Eric Coomer works for Dominion, ok, and I'll tell you when I had first heard that. But I had heard that, so I go, can you believe it? Another lawsuit. They're piling on. You know, didn't they sue me enough for eight billion or whatever it was? All of these billions? But they sued MyPillow and Frankspeech. So what did I do? You know, back then, and every day, it's another lawsuit. Throw it on the pile. I never read it, everybody. I never even read it.

Lindell was visibly agitated throughout the interview, often shouting while aggressively gesticulating. At one point, Lindell falsely claimed there was an alleged "deal" between Newsmax and Dr. Coomer to prevent Lindell and MyPillow from appearing on Newsmax: What those guys did, Brannon, what Eric Coomer and his lawyers did, putting this lawsuit, or making a deal with Chris Ruddy, and then part of the deal is you don't let Mike Lindell come on, think about that! Think about my employees. Think how mad I was. I'm going, you're going to hurt my employees like that?

129. Later in the interview, Lindell insisted that he stood by his allegations that Dr. Coomer is a criminal. He also again reiterated that he had targeted Dr. Coomer personally over his perceived belief that Dr. Coomer's settlement with Newsmax had negatively affected MyPillow sales, stating:

¹⁴⁷ See Mike Lindell, The Lindell Report (3-10-23), FRANKSPEECH, Mar. 10, 2023.

I stand by my words! I called him a criminal! I called his lawyers a criminal! And you know what? I stand by that, because what they did to MyPillow is criminal. What they did to me is criminal. What they did to FrankSpeech. It is criminal!

130. Throughout the interview, Lindell repeatedly referred to this lawsuit as “the most frivolous lawsuit in American history,” and also repeatedly went out of his way to attack the Court. Near the end of the hour-long segment, Lindell shouted:

Thanks, Judge Wang! Thank you, Judge Wang! You’re disgusting! It’s disgusting what you have done to this country and to good Americans at MyPillow. Brannon, it’s unbelievable what we’re up against. But anyway everybody, I want to say this, I would like prayers for everybody. Let’s pray for our judge. Let’s pray for Judge Wang, to pray that she have the moral compass and that she finds the lord. I mean because this is just an evil and it’s spread throughout our country. We need to pray for our judges, everybody. If you know a judge, the ones that can have courage. Not this one, this one had an agenda, Brannon, that’s all I can say. It’s sad, but we’ve got to pray, everybody.

131. Lindell and Howse also repeatedly and seamlessly transitioned to lengthy promotional segments advertising MyPillow products, with both men attesting to the high quality and low prices available utilizing the promo codes they presented.

132. Given Lindell’s relentless publicity campaign, the foregoing likely constitutes only a portion of the numerous defamatory statements published by Lindell and MyPillow (and, where noted, by FrankSpeech as well) following the filing of this lawsuit.

I. Defendants’ allegations against Dr. Coomer were made with actual malice.

133. Then, as now, Defendants relied on Oltmann as the source of their defamatory election-rigging claims against Dr. Coomer. From the beginning, Defendants have had numerous reasons to know that Oltmann’s claims about Dr. Coomer were false and that they have published and continue to publish highly defamatory content with either knowledge of its falsity or reckless disregard for the truth.

134. Oltmann has offered no evidence in support of his allegations against Dr. Coomer. Oltmann does not know Dr. Coomer and had no personal knowledge of Dr. Coomer at the time of the alleged Antifa conference call. Oltmann has not disclosed any witness with personal knowledge that identified Dr. Coomer on the alleged Antifa conference call. Oltmann has not identified any expertise or reliable methodology with which he identified Dr. Coomer on the alleged Antifa conference call. Oltmann did not record the call despite allegedly conducting a Project Veritas-style sting to expose Antifa journalists. Instead, Oltmann's allegations against Dr. Coomer were based on the lie Oltmann made up about the Google search and alleged YouTube videos of Dr. Coomer he claims to have subsequently watched at a later undisclosed time. These are not reliable methodologies for identification.

135. Similarly, Oltmann has no personal knowledge of any election fraud involving Dr. Coomer. Oltmann has not disclosed any witness with personal knowledge of any election fraud committed by Dr. Coomer. Oltmann has offered no evidence of election fraud committed by Dr. Coomer. And Oltmann has not identified any expertise in elections systems with which to identify election fraud. Instead, Oltmann's allegations of fraud were based on his speculation of Dr. Coomer's Facebook posts and his employment with Dominion, neither of which include evidence of election fraud. The Facebook posts themselves are limited to Dr. Coomer's personal and political beliefs, which have no probative value as to the allegations made.

136. Otherwise, Oltmann's allegations are based on anonymous sources—specifically unknown and unverified speakers on an Antifa call Oltmann allegedly infiltrated. Only after Dr. Coomer filed suit against Oltmann did Oltmann claim to have personal knowledge of other participants on the purported call. However, the witnesses Oltmann directly or indirectly identified have denied any knowledge of such a call, denied any knowledge of the statements Oltmann alleged occurred on the call, and denied any knowledge of Dr. Coomer on such a call. No other participants have come forward and Oltmann has not disclosed any other alleged participants. Regardless, Oltmann's alleged knowledge of some participants does not impute knowledge of the relevant unknown and unverified speakers on which Oltmann based his claims. Those alleged speakers remain anonymous.

137. Oltmann's allegations regarding the alleged Antifa call itself have varied. Oltmann initially provided no explanation for how he infiltrated the alleged Antifa call. Oltmann then claimed to have gained access from a Colorado Springs journalist, Heidi Beedle. However, Heidi Beedle has provided sworn testimony that she has no knowledge of the alleged call or Oltmann's allegations. Oltmann has since acknowledged his claim that she was on the call was a "wild guess." Oltmann now claims another unnamed Antifa member gave him access to the call but has refused to disclose the alleged witness's name. Oltmann has not identified when the purported call occurred, at times placing the call in mid-to late-September and at times stating it occurred on or about the week of September 27, 2020. A screenshot Oltmann allegedly took of the Google search of the terms "Eric," "Dominion," and "Denver Colorado," entered into evidence, and swore to its authenticity under oath is dated September 26, 2020, which would place the Google search before the call, but that document has now been revealed as a fabrication that was actually created on November 11, 2020. Oltmann's placement of the call changed again with the filing of his reply in support of his special motion to dismiss in Denver District Court. Specifically, Oltmann introduced in his reply the Declaration of John "Tig" Tiegen (Tiegen), who claims Oltmann alleged a call occurred sometime between September 17 and 21, 2020. Notably, Tiegen's description of Oltmann's allegations did not include Dr. Coomer, Dominion, or election fraud, but, instead, only theories that "journalists were trying out some propaganda." Tiegen himself has no personal knowledge of an alleged call or of Oltmann's allegations against Dr. Coomer. Oltmann has provided no record evidence of the call itself, such as electronic records contemporaneously made that list identifying information such as the date, time, or method of the call. Instead, Oltmann has provided undated notes Oltmann alleges he took during the call. Similarly, the method of communication has also changed with Oltmann first alleging it was a phone call only to now allege it was a Zoom call. Moreover, Oltmann has no recording of the call despite Oltmann having allegedly accessed it to investigate Antifa.¹⁴⁸

138. Defendants have been on notice that Dr. Coomer had sued Oltmann for defamation and that his claims were unreliable. In that litigation, Oltmann has fabricated evidence to support his claims, lied about that evidence under oath, and defaulted on a motion seeking a preservation order for devices and other records that would prove his fraudulent conduct, and has still not abided by that Order as of this filing.

139. In addition, Oltmann has continually defied court-ordered discovery in a separate proceeding related to this matter; refused to produce relevant evidence; refused to disclose alleged information; and refused to provide relevant deposition testimony. This conduct is not new, nor is it unknown to Defendants, as Oltmann regularly discusses his legal troubles publicly, including at length during the Symposium. Oltmann’s convenient excuse—that he fears his source will be subjected to some unspecified harm—only serves to highlight his deception. Like his unnamed, unsubstantiated source, Oltmann has put forth no credible evidence of an acute threat to anyone in this case—except to Dr. Coomer.

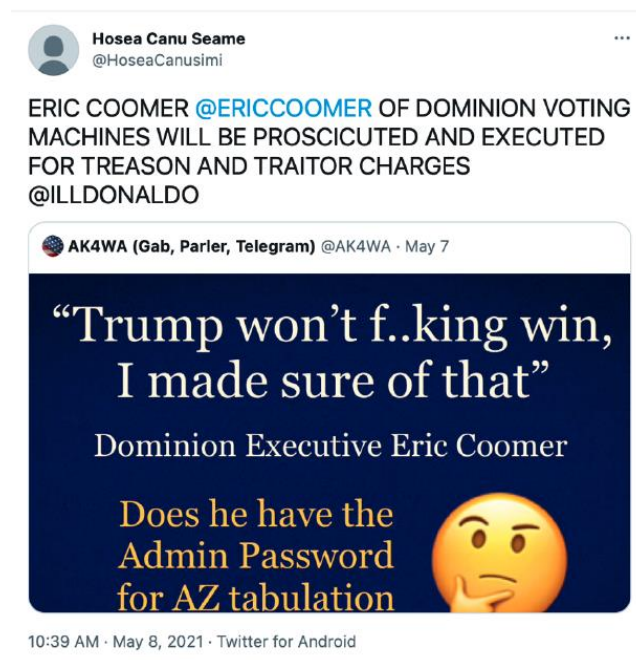

140. Finally, Defendants continuing defamatioin campaign against Dr. Coomer is also tied to their apparent belief that Dr. Coomer and his lawyers made a “deal” to financially harm them by preventing Lindell from appearing on Newsmax and promoting his products. This has resulted in direct and malicious public attacks against Dr. Coomer.

J. Defendants harmed Dr. Coomer.

141. The harm caused by Defendants’ repeated and ongoing nationwide publication of false claims about Dr. Coomer is immense. Despite an utter lack of any evidence whatsoever for the false claims, Dr. Coomer has received countless credible death threats, and continues to receive those threats on a regular basis. Defendants are familiar with Oltmann’s social media presence, his daily podcast, and his frequent calls for political violence and the execution of his political adversaries. The following are just a few illustrative examples of the countless threats directed at Dr. Coomer¹⁴⁹ on the basis of the lies that Defendants have published and persist in publishing.

142. On May 9, 2021, just after the Frankspeech interview with Oltmann and the day before Lindell accused Dr. Coomer of treason, Twitter user @HoseaCanusimi agreed that Dr. Coomer would soon be executed for treason.

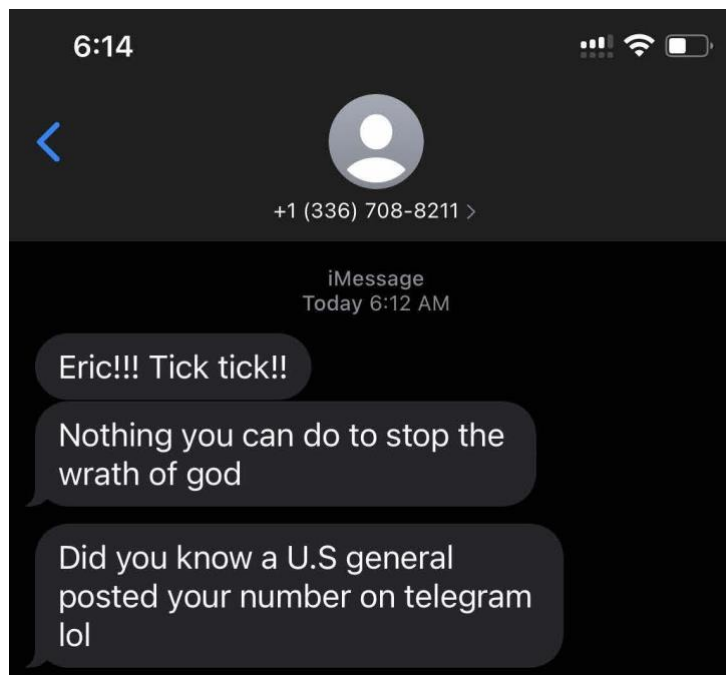

143. A week later, on May 15, 2021, Twitter user @RogaJolly called Dr. Coomer a “traitor” and said he was “on his way to GITMO for treason.”

¹⁴⁹ Plaintiff has documented at least 1,040 different online accounts using the terms “kill,” “die,” “shoot,” “treason,” “hang,” “traitor,” “arrest,” and/or “attack” in posts containing the term “Coomer” between January 12, 2021, and June 30, 2021 alone. That number is inevitably far higher now, as Dr. Coomer continues to receive death threats to this day.

144. As another example, on August 24, 2021, just days after the Cyber Symposium, Dr. Coomer received the following text message on his personal cell phone:

145. Despite all of this, Defendants persisted and continue to persist in airing the false claims against Dr. Coomer. The onslaught of threats Dr. Coomer has experienced and the necessary measures he has been forced to take to protect himself are the direct result of Defendants' defamatory conduct. Dr. Coomer has and will continue to experience serious and severe emotional and physical distress as a result. The harm Defendants have caused to Dr. Coomer's reputation,¹⁵⁰ privacy, safety, and earnings, and other pecuniary loss is immense.

V. CAUSES OF ACTION

A. Defamation Against Defendants

146. Dr. Coomer fully incorporates the prior paragraphs, as well as the Introduction of this Complaint.

147. Dr. Coomer is neither a public official nor a public figure. He is a private individual that Defendants, by their own conduct and for their own ends, targeted and elevated into the public sphere. Defendants intentionally caused the publication of false and unprivileged oral and written statements about Dr. Coomer and ratified false statements of and concerning Dr. Coomer made by others. Their false statements have been seen, read, or heard by millions of individuals across the United States, across Colorado, and specifically in Denver, Colorado.

148. The defamatory meaning of Defendants' false statements is apparent from the face of their publication, refer to Dr. Coomer, and are understood to be about him. These statements are defamatory per se as they inherently injure Dr. Coomer's reputation, impute a crime, and disparage his business practices. On their face, they falsely assert Dr. Coomer has participated in a conspiracy that undermined the integrity of the election; disenfranchised millions of voters; and fraudulently elected the president of the United States. Defendants falsely allege Dr. Coomer accomplished this through fraudulent business practices as an employee of Dominion. Defendants falsely allege Dr. Coomer is a traitor. Defendants' false statements have subjected Dr. Coomer to scorn, outrage, and threats from his community. Their false statements have harmed Dr. Coomer's reputation by lowering him in the estimation of at least a substantial and respectable minority of the community.

149. Defendants published their false statements both negligently and with actual malice. Defendants knew or had reason to know that these statements were false and published their statements with knowledge or reckless disregard of their falsity. Defendants failed to contact and question obvious available sources for corroboration; disregarded reliable sources refuting their claims; had no credible bases for the false allegations made; fabricated specific allegations; treated speculation and innuendo as evidence; and published their allegations in a manner calculated to create a false inference. Their allegations were inherently improbable, derived from unreliable sources, and are unsupported by evidence. Defendants preconceived a conspiracy and then set out to establish that conspiracy to further their own ends. Frankspeech and MyPillow ratified and endorsed the statements of Lindell and the other Frankspeech hosts who promoted the false claims against Dr. Coomer and are both independently and vicariously liable for the conduct described herein. Frankspeech and MyPillow could have put a stop to Lindell and other Frankspeech hosts' conduct and intentionally allowed them to continue to defame Dr. Coomer.

150. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' conduct, Dr. Coomer has suffered significant actual and special damages including, without limitation, harm to his reputation, emotional distress, stress, anxiety, lost earnings, and other pecuniary loss.

B. Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress Against Defendants

151. Dr. Coomer fully incorporates the prior paragraphs, as well as the Introduction of this Complaint.

152. Defendants engaged in extreme and outrageous conduct. Their conduct was calculated to cause Dr. Coomer severe emotional distress. Defendants falsely alleged Dr. Coomer perpetrated a criminal conspiracy against every American citizen to overturn the results of the presidential election. They branded Dr. Coomer a traitor and made him a pariah. They encouraged the dissemination of these false claims. They exploited public fear and directed vitriol and threats against Dr. Coomer. Oltmann has directly made terroristic threats against Dr. Coomer, calling on people to harm Dr. Coomer and placing Dr. Coomer in fear of imminent injury and death. Defendants have knowingly elevated Oltmann's statements and adopted his false allegations and threats. These actions have had their intended effect. Dr. Coomer has had an onslaught of harassment and credible death threats issued against him; he is at risk in his home or in going to work; his presence puts his family, friends, colleagues, and his community in danger. All aspects of his life have been altered in response to Defendants' conduct, including things as basic as where to live, how to go out in public, and when to see family and friends. The results of Defendants' ongoing conduct are foreseeable and obscene. This conduct is so outrageous in character and extreme in degree as to go beyond all possible bounds of decency. It should be regarded as atrocious and determined intolerable in a civilized community.

153. Defendants are aware of Oltmann's consistently violent and threatening rhetoric. They know he frequently calls for the execution of his political opponents, that he is closely affiliated with an extremist militia group, that he talks about Dr. Coomer almost daily, and that even his own former allies have expressed concerns about his constant calls to violence. Despite this knowledge, Defendants persist in publishing, promoting, and ratifying Oltmann's false and extremely dangerous lies about Dr. Coomer.

154. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' conduct, Dr. Coomer has suffered significant actual and special damages including, without limitation, emotional distress, overwhelming stress and anxiety, lost earnings, and other pecuniary loss.

C. Civil Conspiracy Against Defendants

155. Dr. Coomer fully incorporates the prior paragraphs, as well as the Introduction of this Complaint.

156. Defendants engaged in a conspiracy to defame and inflict emotional distress upon Dr. Coomer.

157. Defendants' collective objective was to promote the false claim that the 2020 presidential election was rigged for their own financial and political gain. To do that, Defendants agreed, both expressly and implicitly, to create a demonstrably false narrative that the election had been rigged and that President Trump lost his reelection bid because of fraudulent election activities.

158. Defendants fed their narrative by falsely accusing Dr. Coomer of both having the ability and intent to rig the presidential election and actually subverting the election results so as to disenfranchise millions of voters. Defendants fabricated their false narrative by using Dr. Coomer's alleged (and false) affiliation with "Antifa," speculation as to his access to election hardware and software, and his personal political beliefs. In order to further their objective, Defendants agreed, by their words and conduct, to publish and republish defamatory statements about Dr. Coomer and threats towards Dr. Coomer.

159. As a result of Defendants' coordinated conduct, Dr. Coomer has become the target of death threats and harassment and suffered significant actual and special damages proximately caused by their conduct, including, without limitation, emotional distress, overwhelming stress and anxiety, lost earnings, and other pecuniary loss.

D. Permanent Injunction

160. Dr. Coomer fully incorporates the foregoing paragraphs, as well as the Introduction of this Complaint.

161. Dr. Coomer seeks permanent injunctive relief to remove all Defendants' defamatory statements upon final adjudication of the claims at issue.

E. Exemplary Damages

162. Dr. Coomer fully incorporates the foregoing paragraphs, as well as the Introduction of this Complaint.

163. Defendants' conduct in this case, both before and after the filing of Dr. Coomer's Original Complaint, has been attended by circumstances of fraud, malice, and willful and wanton conduct.

164. Defendants personally targeted Dr. Coomer in retaliation for his settlement with Newsmax.

165. Defendants have profited off of their defamation campaign against Dr. Coomer, including, but not limited to, at least $2,274,949 in profits from promo codes associated with the defamatory publications addressed above.

166. Defendants have not made any effort to familiarize themselves with the facts of this case.

167. Defendants know that their purposefully committed conduct, which remains ongoing, is dangerous, done heedlessly and recklessly, without regard to consequences, and without regard to the rights and safety of Dr. Coomer.

168. Defendants did not ever and still do not have any evidence whatsoever to suggest that Dr. Coomer has engaged in any criminal conduct. The absence of evidence for their claims does not matter to Defendants. They do not care if what they publish is true or not.

169. Defendants are knowingly lying about Dr. Coomer every time they accuse him of criminal conduct.

170. After being sued, Defendants did not even read Dr. Coomer's lawsuit until more than eleven months later. During the interim, and even thereafter, they have persisted in publishing defamatory statements that restate or otherwise reaffirm the false claims that are unequivocally denied and conclusively debunked in Dr. Coomer's Complaint.

171. Following the filing of this lawsuit, Defendants have engaged in potentially illicit communications in an effort to identify personal information about Dr. Coomer and his contacts.

172. Defendants' willful and wanton conduct during the pendency of this lawsuit has further aggravated the damages that Dr. Coomer has suffered, and Defendants knew or should have known that their conduct would produce that aggravation.

173. Defendants know that their conduct could get Dr. Coomer killed, but they do not care.

174. Exemplary damages are appropriate and necessary under these circumstances.

VI. DEMAND FOR RETRACTION

175. Dr. Coomer demands Defendants immediately and publicly retract all defamatory statements regarding himself. Dr. Coomer reserves the right to amend his pleadings in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Dr. Coomer anticipates amending his pleadings as more information becomes available, including the full scope of defamatory statements Defendants have made.

VII. JURY DEMAND

176. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 38, Dr. Coomer requests a jury to decide all issues of fact.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

For these reasons, Plaintiff Eric Coomer, Ph.D. respectfully requests that the Court enter judgment against Defendants, including, but not limited to:

- Actual and special damages against Defendants in an amount to be proven at trial;
- Exemplary damages in an amount to be proven at trial after the exchange of initial disclosures pursuant to Colorado Rules of Civil Procedure and Plaintiff establishes prima facie proof of triable issues pursuant to C.R.S. § 13-21-102.
- Attorney's fees and costs;
- Prejudgment and post-judgment interest; and
- Such other and further relief, both general and special, to which Plaintiff may be justly entitled to receive.
