Dear Phillip,

Representatives of Papst Licensing would like to meet with you and your client at your law offices in Tokyo, Japan on Thursday, July 19th starting at 14:00 hours. Please let me know in the next day or two if this is acceptable to you and your client.

Papst Licensing filed a patent infringement lawsuit earlier today against Fujifilm in the Northern District of Illinois concerning the same patents that Papst Licensing is asserting against Olympus. Papst Licensing will be filing additional lawsuits against other infringers in the very near future. As we previously told you, Papst Licensing' s negotiations with your client are time sensitive due to the constraints imposed on us by the lawsuit that Casio filed.

We look forward to your prompt response to this request for a meeting and we look forward to trying to reach a final resolution of the controversy at our proposed meeting next month.

MOTION TO DISMISS OR, IN THE ALTERNATIVE, TO TRANSFER THIS ACTION TO THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Pursuant to Rules 12(b)(2), 12(b)(3) and 12(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and 28 U.S.C. § 1404(a), defendants Fujifilm Corporation ("Fujifilm Japan") and Fujifilm U.S.A., Inc. ("Fujifilm U.S.A.") (collectively, "Fujifilm") hereby move to dismiss the Complaint filed by Papst Licensing GmbH & Co. KG ("Papst Licensing") or, in the alternative, to transfer this action to the United States District Court for the District of Columbia.

As set forth more fully in the accompanying memorandum, the District of Columbia is the presumptive venue, under 35 U.S.C. § 293, for patent actions involving foreign holders of U.S. patents, such as Papst Licensing, that have no registered agent for service of process in the United States. Pursuant to that statutory provision, an action already is pending in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia that involves precisely the same two patents asserted by Papst Licensing before this Court. Casio, Inc. v. Papst Licensing, 1:06-cv-01751-GK (USDC DC). Thus, this action is not the "first-filed" action on the patents-in-suit, and for that reason alone it should be transferred or dismissed. See, e.g., Coleman Co. v. Black & Decker Corp., 1996 WL 41484 (N.D. Ill. 1996).

Moreover, on June 21, 2007, Fujifilm filed a declaratory judgment Complaint against Papst Licensing in the District of Columbia on the same two patents-in-suit. While Fujifilm's District of Columbia Complaint is well-pleaded in all respects, the bare three-page Complaint filed by Papst Licensing in this Court is defective on its face. In particular, the handful of substantive paragraphs in the Papst Licensing Complaint do not actually allege infringement of the patents-in-suit by Fujifilm, or even a good-faith belief based on reasonable investigation that such infringement has occurred. Rather, Papst Licensing has merely alleged that it hopes "a reasonable opportunity for further investigation or discovery" will "provide evidentiary support" that Fujifilm has committed acts of infringement or has induced others to do so. Because such paper-thin allegations are susceptible to a motion to dismiss under Rule 12(b)(6), the declaratory judgment Complaint filed by Fujifilm in the District of Columbia should also be given priority over the Papst Licensing Complaint under the "first-to-file" doctrine.

Transfer or dismissal of this action is further supported by the relevant equitable considerations, including the interests of justice and the convenience of the parties and witnesses. A transfer also would avoid the prospect of inconsistency between the rulings of this Court and the Casio court in the District of Columbia on issues of claim construction, invalidity, and unenforceability.

Finally, as indicated above, the Complaint filed by Papst Licensing in this Court is defective and should be dismissed because it fails to allege actual infringing activities by Fujifilm, and therefore fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted. The Complaint further should be dismissed because it fails to identify any specific Fujifilm products that Papst Licensing alleges infringe the patents-in-suit. Moreover, Papst has failed to plead facts that support personal jurisdiction over Fujifilm, in particular with respect to Fujifilm Japan.

For these reasons and on the additional grounds set forth in detail in the attached memorandum of points and authorities and exhibits filed herewith, Fujifilm moves to dismiss or transfer this action pursuant to Rules 12 (b)(2), 12(b)(3) and 12(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and 28 U.S.C.. § 1404(a).

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

MATSUSHITA ELECTRIC INDUSTRIAL CO., LTD.,
1006, Oaza-Kadoma, Kadoma City,
Osaka, Japan, and

VICTOR COMPANY OF JAPAN, LTD.,
3-12, Moriya-cho, Kanagawa-ku, Yokohama,
Kanagawa, Japan,

Plaintiffs,

v.

PAPST LICENSING GmbH & CO., KG,
Bahnhofstrasse 33
78112 St. Georgen, Germany,

Defendant.

Civil Action No. _____

COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY JUDGMENT OF NON-INFRINGEMENT AND INVALIDITY OF PATENTS AND JURY DEMAND

Plaintiffs Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. ("MEI") and Victor Company of Japan, Ltd. ("JVC"), bring this action against Papst Licensing GmbH & Co, KG ("Papst Licensing") for a declaration that MEI's and JVC's products do not infringe two patents purportedly owned by Papst Licensing, and a declaration that those two patents are invalid.

Parties

1. Plaintiff Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. is a Japanese corporation with its principal place of business at 1006, Oaza-Kadoma, Kadoma City, Osaka, Japan.

2. Plaintiff Victor Company of Japan, Limited is a Japanese corporation with its principal place of business at 3-12, Moriya-cho, Kanagawa-ku, Yokohama, Kanagawa, Japan.

3. MEI manufactures and sells a wide range of consumer electronics products, including digital cameras sold under the Panasonic label.

4. JVC manufactures and sells a wide range of consumer electronics products, including digital camcorders.

5. Upon information and belief, Papst Licensing is a company existing under the laws of The Federal Republic of Germany with its principal place of business at Bahnhofstrasse 33, 78112 St. Georgen, Germany.

6. Upon information and belief, Papst Licensing does not manufacture or sell any consumer products. Its sole business is to acquire and attempt to license or enforce intellectual property rights.

Patents-in-Suit

7. Papst Licensing has held itself out to be the owner of United States Patent No. 6,470,399 B1 ("the '399 patent"), entitled "Flexible Interface for Communication Between a Host and an Analog I/O Device Connected to the Interface Regardless of the Type of the I/O Device," which issued on October 22, 2002.

8. Papst Licensing has also held itself out to be the owner of United States Patent No. 6,895,449 B2 ("the '449 patent"), entitled "Flexible Interface for Communication Between a Host and an Analog I/O Device Connected to the Interface Regardless the Type of the I/O Device," which issued on May 17, 2005.

9. Papst Licensing has prosecuted continuations and divisional applications of the '399 and the '449 patents, including pending application No. 11/078,778.

10. Papst Licensing has told MEI, along with dozens of other companies, that if MEI does not license the '399 and the '449 patents, Papst Licensing will sue MEI for infringing those patents and subject MEI to costly patent litigation that will cause significant injury to MEI's business and reputation. Papst Licensing has made these threats without conducting an appropriate analysis of MEI's digital camera or other products it accuses of infringement and with knowledge that those products do not infringe the '399 and the '449 patents.

11. Papst Licensing has specifically accused MEI products of infringing the '399 patent and the '449 patent on several occasions. For example, in a letter dated November 27, 2006, Papst Licensing accused several models of Panasonic digital cameras of infringing both patents. Papst Licensing has repeated its accusations of infringement and threats of litigation during 2006 and 2007, including during meetings with MEI's representatives.

12. MEI has explained to Papst Licensing in detail on several different occasions why MEI's products do not infringe the '399 patent or the '449 patent, including, without limitation, during meetings in 2006 and 2007.

13. Notwithstanding the evidence that MEI's products do not infringe the '399 patent or '449 patent, Papst Licensing has continued to demand that MEI pay Papst Licensing royalties for use of the '399 and '449 patents.

14. MEI has refused to take a license to these patents on the ground that no such license is needed, because MEI's digital camera and other products do not infringe the '399 and '449 patents.

15. Papst Licensing has also specifically accused JVC products of infringing the '399 patent and the '449 patent on several occasions. For example, in a letter dated December 21, 2006, Papst Licensing accused a JVC digital camcorder of infringing both patents. Papst Licensing has repeated its accusations of infringement and threats of litigation during 2007, including during a meeting with JVC's representatives. Pabst Licensing has made these threats and accusations without conducting an appropriate analysis of JVC's digital camcorders or other products it accuses of infringement.

16. Papst Licensing has continued to demand that JVC pay Papst Licensing royalties for use of the '399 and '449 patents.

17. JVC has refused to take a license to these patents on the ground that no such license is needed, because JVC's digital camcorders and other products do not infringe the '399 and '449 patents.

Jurisdiction and Venue

18. This action arises under the Declaratory Judgment Act and the patent laws of the United States. See 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202; Title 35 U.S.C. §§ 100 et seq.

19. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338.

20. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Papst Licensing pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 293.

21. Venue in this judicial district is proper under at least 28 U.S.C. § 1391(c) and (d) and 35 U.S.C. § 293.

22. The '399 and the '449 patents are already being litigated in this District in two other matters. Specifically, Casio, Inc. filed an action against Papst Licensing seeking a declaratory judgment that the '399 and '449 patents are not infringed by Casio products and are invalid. That action is entitled Casio v. Papst Licensing, Case No. 1:06-cv-01751-GK. Fujifilm Corporation and Fujifilm U.S.A., Inc. also filed an action in this District seeking a declaratory judgment that the '399 and '449 patents are not infringed by Fujifilm products and are invalid. That action is entitled Fujifilm Corp. and Fujifilm U.S.A., Inc. v. Papst Licensing GmbH & Co., KG, Case No. 1:07-cv-01118-GK.

23. An actual and justiciable controversy exists between MEI and JVC, on the one hand, and Papst Licensing, on the other hand, concerning Papst Licensing's claims of infringement of the '399 and the '449 patents and concerning whether those patents are valid.

Count I
(Declaratory Judgment of non-infringement and invalidity of the '399 patent)

24. MEI and JVC reallege and incorporate by reference their allegations in paragraphs 1 through 23 above as if fully set forth herein.

25. MEI has not directly infringed, contributed to infringement of, or induced infringement of any valid claim of the '399 patent, nor is MEI, either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents, directly infringing, contributing to direct infringement of, or inducing infringement of any valid claim of the '399 patent.

26. JVC has not directly infringed, contributed to infringement of, or induced infringement of any valid claim of the '399 patent, nor is JVC, either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents, directly infringing, contributing to direct infringement of, or inducing infringement of any valid claim of the '399 patent.

27. The '399 patent is invalid for failing to comply with one or more of the requirements for patentability set forth in Title 35 U.S.C. § 101, et seq., including, without limitation, 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103 and/or 112.

28. An actual and justiciable controversy exists between MEI and JVC, on the one hand, and Papst Licensing, on the other hand, regarding the alleged infringement and validity of the '399 patent by virtue of the allegations made by Papst Licensing that MEI and JVC and/or their customers are or have been infringing the '399 patent.

29. This case is an exceptional case pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 285, entitling MEI and JVC to an award of their attorneys' fees.

Count II

(Declaratory Judgment of non-infringement and invalidity of the '449 patent)

30. MEI and JVC reallege and incorporate by reference their allegations in paragraphs 1 through 29 above as if fully set forth herein.

31. MEI has not directly infringed, contributed to infringement of, or induced infringement of any valid claim of the '449 patent, nor is MEI, either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents, directly infringing, contributing to direct infringement of, or inducing infringement of any valid claim of the '449 patent.

32. JVC has not directly infringed, contributed to infringement of, or induced infringement of any valid claim of the '449 patent, nor is JVC, either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents, directly infringing, contributing to direct infringement of, or inducing infringement of any valid claim of the '449 patent.

33. The '449 patent is invalid for failing to comply with one or more of the requirements for patentability set forth in Title 35 U.S.C. § 101, et seq., including, without limitation, 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103 and/or 112.

34. An actual and justiciable controversy exists between MEI and JVC, on the one hand, and Papst Licensing, on the other, regarding the alleged infringement and validity of the '449 patent by virtue of the allegations made by Papst Licensing that MEI and JVC and/or their customers are or have been infringing the '399 patent.

35. This case is an exceptional case pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 285, entitling MEI and JVC to an award of their attorneys' fees.

36. MEI expressly reserves the right to amend this Complaint to add declaratory judgment counts with respect to any continuation or divisional applications relating to the patents-in-suit that may issue after the date this complaint is filed.

Prayer for relief

WHEREFORE, MEI prays this Court for the following relief:

1. A declaration that MEI has not infringed, and is not infringing, the '399 or '449 patents;

2. A declaration that JVC has not infringed, and is not infringing, the '399 or '449 patents;

3. A declaration that MEI has not infringed, and is not infringing, any of the claims of any continuation or divisional application relating to the patents-in-suit that may hereafter issue;

4. A declaration that JVC has not infringed, and is not infringing, any of the claims of any continuation or divisional application relating to the patents-in-suit that may hereafter issue;

5. A declaration that each of the claims of the '399 and '449 patents is invalid;

6. An injunction prohibiting Papst Licensing from alleging infringement of the '399 and '449 patents by MEI and its customers;

7. An injunction prohibiting Papst Licensing from alleging infringement of the '399 and '449 patents by JVC and its customers;

8. An award of damages that MEI and JVC have sustained;

9. A declaration that this case is exceptional under 35 U.S.C. § 285, and MEI and JVC should be awarded their reasonable attorney fees and costs incurred in connection with this action; and

10. Such other further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

Jury Demand

Plaintiffs MEI and JVC demand a jury trial on all issues so triable.

Re: Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd., et al. v. Papst Licensing GmbH & Co., KG
Our File No. 0757-97351

Dear Ms. Capoccia:

This is in response to your letter dated August 2, 2007, and to the Summons which was personally served by hand delivery on me in Chicago on August 3, 2007. In your letter you state,

> "I have attached a copy of the amended complaint hereto, and we will serve this complaint as you have directed."

Your statement is not accurate. I only agreed to accept service of process if the lawsuit was filed in the District Court in Chicago, Illinois, not for the lawsuit filed in the District of Columbia. For this reason, your attempt to serve a summons on me for the DC action is ineffective.

Papst Licensing requests that you immediately withdraw the lawsuit that you filed in the District of Columbia against Papst Licensing. We also request that you agree in writing that you will not assert in the lawsuit in Washington, DC that your service on me was effective. If you do not take these steps immediately and we are forced to file a motion to dismiss for improper service and/or lack of jurisdiction, we will seek fees against your clients.

If you have any questions about this matter, please contact us.

Sincerely,

WELSH & KATZ, LTD.
