Answer: Your PIN is used to access the phone administration feature. You can dial in to your MaxEmail number to listen to voicemail, record a custom voicemail greeting, and check for new faxes. The PIN is not used by callers when dialing your MaxEmail number, and you should not share your PIN with anyone else. To change your PIN, login to your account and click "Receive Settings" under the Account Settings tab. Enter your new PIN twice and save the change. Frequently Asked Questions, G113. Question: Can I receive faxes from Fax on Demand services (FOD)? Answer: There are two types of FOD services - one call and two call. With the one call system, you dial the FOD service from your fax machine, request your document, and then the FOD service faxes it back to you on that same call. This type of system will not work with your MaxEmail Fax number. The two call system is more common. With a two-call FOD system, you call in, request the document, enter your fax number and hang up. The FOD then processes the request and faxes your document to the fax number entered, but on a separate call. You should not have any problems requesting FOD documents from a two-call system. Question:

Received Messages (Under Receive tab)

Answer:

In this area, you can view the last 30 days of faxes and/or voicemails received on your account. If you have the Extended Storage feature enabled (additional charge), 1 year of receive history is available.

The Receive Activity displays the date, time, MaxEmail ID, number of pages, sender ID and file size of messages received. Caller ID is displayed if you have that feature enabled (additional charge). There is also a small clickable square to the far right of each message. Clicking a square opens up a notes field where you can type comments about a fax. The square will change to a small notepad icon if you save notes for a fax.

From the activity log, you can re-send messages to your e-mail address, forward faxes to another e-mail address, or delete messages from your log. Check the box to the right of a message to select it, then click the Resend, Forward or Delete button at the bottom of the page to perform the action.

To open a fax or voice message from within the activity log, click on the ID. This allows you to access your messages when you are away from your e-mail, but you must still have the proper software loaded to view faxes and listen to voicemail in this manner.

Question:

What do I use the PIN for?

Answer:

Your PIN is used to access the phone administration feature. You can dial in to your MaxEmail number to listen to voicemail, record a custom voicemail greeting, and check for new faxes.

The PIN is not used by callers when dialing your MaxEmail number, and you should not share your PIN with anyone else. To change your PIN, login to your account and click "Receive Settings" under the Account Settings tab. Enter your new PIN twice and save the change.

Question:

Can I receive faxes from Fax on Demand services (FOD)?

Answer:

There are two types of FOD services - one call and two call. With the one call system, you dial the FOD service from your fax machine, request your document, and then the FOD service faxes it back to you on that same call. This type of system will not work with your MaxEmail Fax number. The two call system is more common. With a two-call FOD system, you call in, request the document, enter your fax number and hang up. The FOD then processes the request and faxes your document to the fax number entered, but on a separate call. You should not have any problems requesting FOD documents from a two-call system.
