Jonathan,

As you may know, CGG has filed a motion in the Southern District to compel the Coffee County Board to produce documents it failed to produce under our Curling case subpoena. One of the several issues in play is the silver laptop that Misty Hampton used in her work, as seen in the photos attached. We are trying to determine whether that was Ms. Hampton's personal laptop or one owned by the county. We are under the impression that she used it extensively in her duties and that it was left in the office after her tenure and that Mr. Barnes, her successor, kept it in his office, although he did not use it.

Could you check with her to see whether this was a county laptop or her own, and what she did with it when she left?

Thanks, hope you are doing ok.

Bruce
