The Grand Jury charges:

COUNT 1

(Conspiracy to Operate an Unlicensed Money Transmitting Business)

Between approximately March 2017 and December 2018, in Kent County, in the Western District of Michigan, Southern Division, and elsewhere, the defendants,

CHRISTOPHER ALLAN BODEN, a/k/a “Captain,”
LEESA BETH VOGT, a/k/a “Lis Bokt,” a/k/a “Moose,” and
DANIEL REYNOLD DEJAGER, a/k/a “Daniel Reynold,”
a/k/a “Daniel Miester,” a/k/a “Danichi,” and others known and unknown to the Grand Jury, unlawfully, willfully and knowingly combined, conspired, confederated, and agreed together and with each other to commit an offense against the United States, namely, to violate Section 1960 of Title 18, United States Code.

It was a part and the object of the conspiracy that BODEN, VOGT, DEJAGER, Jeremy Tyler Swink, and others known and unknown, would and did conduct, control, manage, supervise, direct, and own all or part of an unlicensed money transmitting business, namely, The Geek Group, a/k/a the National Science Institute, in violation of Section 1960 of Title 18, United States Code.

MANNER AND MEANS

1. Among the means and methods by which BODEN, VOGT, DEJAGER, Swink, and their co-conspirators would and did carry out the conspiracy were the following:

a. At all times relevant to this Indictment, BODEN was the president and a board member of The Geek Group, which was a registered 501(c)(3) non-profit organization. VOGT was a board member of The Geek Group. Swink was on the staff of The Geek Group. DEJAGER was a consultant for The Geek Group. The Geek Group was located in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

b. At all times relevant to this Indictment, BODEN sold bitcoin, personally and using The Geek Group, to numerous customers, in exchange for U.S. currency, primarily cash. The total value of bitcoin sold by BODEN and his co-conspirators was equivalent to more than $700,000 in U.S. currency.

c. At all times relevant to this Indictment, Swink sold bitcoin on behalf of BODEN at The Geek Group. BODEN obtained the bitcoin from DEJAGER, who lived in Washington, and would periodically travel to Michigan to meet with BODEN. BODEN, VOGT, and Swink would deposit cash received from their customers into a bank account to which DEJAGER had access, or would otherwise transfer cash to DEJAGER. DEJAGER then used that currency to purchase additional bitcoin.

d. During the period relevant to this Indictment, none of BODEN, VOGT, DEJAGER, Swink, and The Geek Group, a/k/a the National Science Institute, was registered as a money services business or money transmitter with the United States Department of the Treasury.

OVERT ACTS

2. In furtherance of the conspiracy and to effect the illegal object thereof, the following overt acts, among others, were committed in the Western District of Michigan and elsewhere:

a. In or around May and June 2017, BODEN, VOGT, and DEJAGER opened a bank account at Chase Bank, with the account number ending 6810, for the purpose of storing and transferring cash proceeds of the sale of bitcoin, which were then used to purchase additional bitcoin.

b. On or about July 17, 2017, BODEN, VOGT, DEJAGER, and Swink set up a group chat on Facebook for the purpose of recording cash deposits from the proceeds of the sale of bitcoin.

c. In 2017 and 2018, BODEN, VOGT, DEJAGER, and Swink made numerous deposits to the Chase Bank account, and DEJAGER used those funds to purchase additional bitcoin on the exchanges Coinbase, Gemini, and Glidera, including but not limited to the following transactions in or around the following dates:

Date	Description of Transactions
September 2017	22 ATM deposits at Chase Bank totaling $19,970, and 12 related debits to virtual currency exchanges Coinbase and Glidera, totaling $20,067.50
November 2017	56 ATM deposits at Chase Bank totaling $62,711, and 15 related debits to virtual currency exchange Gemini totaling $69,966
December 2017	27 ATM deposits at Chase Bank totaling $36,640, and 11 related debits to virtual currency exchanges Gemini and Glidera totaling $46,729.97
January 2018	38 ATM deposits at Chase Bank totaling $64,605, and 17 related debits to virtual currency exchanges Gemini and Glidera totaling $63,480.03
May 2018	26 ATM deposits at Chase Bank totaling $37,720, and 12 related debits to virtual currency exchanges Gemini and Glidera totaling $26,983.45

June 2018	20 ATM deposits at Chase Bank totaling $27,380, and 10 related debits to virtual currency exchanges Gemini and Glidera totaling $24,485.02
October 12 and 15, 2018	ATM deposits at Chase Bank in the amounts of $3,000, $1,700, $3,000, and $1,800 after receiving $11,250 in cash
November 2018	24 ATM deposits at Chase Bank totaling $48,310, and 9 related debits to virtual currency exchange Gemini totaling $43,085
December 7, 10, and 11, 2018	ATM deposits at Chase Bank in the amounts of $3,000, $1,800, $2,760, $2,100, $3,100, and $2,200 after receiving $15,000 in cash
December 21, 2018	ATM deposits at Chase Bank in the amounts of $2,500 and $2,300 after receiving $15,000 in cash

d. In 2017 and 2018, BODEN and DEJAGER “mixed” bitcoin before selling it to customers to conceal its origin, including but not limited to the following transactions on or about the following dates:

Date(s)	Amount	Bitcoin address(es) in transaction

e. In 2017 and 2018, BODEN and VOGT advertised the sale of bitcoin at The Geek Group and recruited customers to purchase bitcoin, including, but not limited to, by posting a bitcoin sign on the window of The Geek Group.

COUNT 2

(Operating an Unlicensed Money Transmitting Business)

Between approximately March 2017 and December 2018, in Kent County, in the Western District of Michigan, Southern Division, and elsewhere, the defendants,

CHRISTOPHER ALLAN BODEN, a/k/a “Captain,”
LEESA BETH VOGT, a/k/a “Lis Bokt,” a/k/a “Moose,” and
DANIEL REYNOLD DEJAGER, a/k/a “Daniel Reynold,”
a/k/a “Daniel Miester,” a/k/a “Danichi,”

unlawfully, willfully, and knowingly conducted, controlled, managed, supervised, directed, and owned all or part of an unlicensed money transmitting business affecting interstate and foreign commerce, and aided and abetted the same, (a) while failing to comply with the money transmitting business registration requirements under Section 5330 of Title 31, United States Code, and regulations prescribed under such section, and (b) involving the transmission of funds that were known to BODEN and DEJAGER to have been derived from a criminal offense and intended to be used to promote or support unlawful activity, namely, BODEN, VOGT, DEJAGER, and Swink used The Geek Group, a/k/a the National Science Institute, to transmit hundreds of thousands of dollars by means of virtual currency, including bitcoin, without registering The Geek Group as a money transmitting business under federal law, and BODEN and DEJAGER knew that at least some of the funds involved were used to purchase or derived from selling controlled substances.

18 U.S.C. §§ 1960, 2

COUNT 3

(Conspiracy to Launder Money)

From in or about March 2017 through December 2018, in Kent County, in the Western District of Michigan, Southern Division, and elsewhere, the defendants,

CHRISTOPHER ALLAN BODEN, a/k/a “Captain,” and
DANIEL REYNOLD DEJAGER, a/k/a “Daniel Reynold,”
a/k/a “Daniel Miester,” a/k/a “Danichi,”

knowingly combined, conspired, and agreed with each other and with other persons known and unknown to the Grand Jury to commit offenses against the United States in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Sections 1956 and 1957, namely:

(a) to knowingly conduct and attempt to conduct financial transactions affecting interstate and foreign commerce, which involved the proceeds of a specified unlawful activity, that is, operating an unlicensed money transmitting business, with the intent to promote the carrying on of specified unlawful activity, that is, operating an unlicensed money transmitting business and the distribution of controlled substances, and that while conducting and attempting to conduct such financial transactions, knew that the property involved in the financial transactions represented the proceeds of some form of unlawful activity, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1956(a)(1)(A)(i);

(b) to knowingly conduct and attempt to conduct financial transactions affecting interstate and foreign commerce, which involved the proceeds of a specified unlawful activity, that is, operating an unlicensed money transmitting business, knowing that the transactions were designed in whole or in part to conceal and disguise the nature, location, source, ownership, and control of the proceeds of specified unlawful activity, and that while conducting and attempting to conduct such financial transactions, knew that the property involved in the financial transactions represented the proceeds of some form of unlawful activity, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1956(a)(1)(B)(i); and

(c) to knowingly engage and attempt to engage in monetary transactions by, through, or to a financial institution, affecting interstate and foreign commerce, in criminally derived property of a value greater than $10,000, that is, U.S. currency, such property having been derived from a specified unlawful activity, that is, operating an unlicensed money transmitting business, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1957.

MANNER AND MEANS

The manner and means used to accomplish the object of the conspiracy included, among others, the following:

1. BODEN used his registered non-profit entity, The Geek Group, a/k/a the National Science Institute, and its place of business in Grand Rapids, Michigan, to advertise and recruit customers to purchase bitcoin, as described in Count 1, the allegations of which are hereby incorporated by reference.
2. BODEN marketed himself as a bitcoin broker who did not require any information about his customers, that is, he advertised that he did not collect know-your-customer (“KYC”) information about his clients.
3. BODEN obtained bitcoin from DEJAGER, who obtained the bitcoin from other sources. DEJAGER periodically travelled from Washington to Grand Rapids, Michigan, to meet with BODEN.
4. BODEN’s customers paid him in cash. BODEN sent the proceeds from the sale of bitcoin to DEJAGER to purchase still additional bitcoin.

5. BODEN and DEJAGER regularly “mixed” bitcoin in order to conceal the origin of the funds used in the transactions. BODEN advertised his ability to mix bitcoin to his customers.

6. In at least some instances, BODEN knew that the customer to whom he sold bitcoin was using the bitcoin to engage in illegal activities, including the distribution of controlled substances.
