These habeas cases come before the Court for the enforcement of the Court's prior orders. In each case, the Court ordered the release of Petitioners, all of whom had been unlawfully detained by Respondents. Additionally, in each case, the Court ordered Respondents to return all personal belongings taken from Petitioners during their unlawful detention because Respondents have no lawful claim to such property.¹ The property at issue includes personal belongings such as cash, cellphones, jewelry, driver's licenses, work permits, passports, clothing, and other identification and immigration documents.

In light of Respondents' numerous unlawful violations of court orders in these and other recent habeas cases, see, e.g., Juan T.R. v. Noem, et al., 26-CV-0107 (PJS/DLM), Doc. 10-1 (D. Minn. Jan. 28, 2026), on February 20, 2026, the Court ordered Respondents "to immediately return all property in their possession, custody, or control to Petitioner's counsel" and to file declarations "by an individual with personal knowledge pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746 confirming that all property of Petitioner was returned to Petitioner and attaching documentation of that fact." The Court notified Respondents that if they did not comply by 11:00 a.m. on February 25, 2026, they would face contempt proceedings. As of the date of this Order, Respondents have not complied.² The Court cannot ignore Respondents' unlawful conduct.

Therefore, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that:

1. A combined contempt hearing for the above-captioned cases is set for Tuesday, March 3, 2026, at 10:00 a.m. in Courtroom 3B of the Warren E. Burger Federal Building and United States Courthouse, 316 N. Robert Street,

¹ The Court provided one caveat: if Respondents or their agents confiscated any documents from a petitioner that were subject to retention after a petitioner's release, Respondents could provide certified copies of such documents to that petitioner's counsel in lieu of return of the actual documents.

² It is true that, in some cases, Respondents filed a statement noting that neither counsel nor their client was "currently aware of any property return issues," or similar. The wording of this response suggests that Respondents do not know whether property has been returned. In this way, such responses are incomplete and evasive and do not comply with the Court's February 20 Order, which requires confirmation that all property has been returned and documentation of the same.

St. Paul, Minnesota.

2. At the contempt hearing, Respondents must show cause why they should not be held in civil or criminal contempt in each of the above-captioned cases for the following conduct:
 - a. failing to comply with the Court's Orders, including the February 20, 2026 Order, requiring Respondents to immediately return all property of a petitioner in their possession, custody, or control, to counsel for each petitioner;
 - b. failing to comply with the Court's Orders, including the February 20, 2026 Order, requiring Respondents to provide documentation of the return of property.
3. The following individuals must appear before the Court at the hearing:
 - a. David W. Fuller, Assistant United States Attorney and Acting Chief of the Civil Division of the Minnesota United States Attorney's Office;
 - b. Daniel Rosen, United States Attorney for the District of Minnesota;
 - c. a representative (or representatives) of Immigration and Customs Enforcement who had notice of the Court's previous Orders in each of the above-captioned cases concerning return of property and documentation of that fact, and was (or were) directly or indirectly responsible for Petitioners' custody, transportation, and release; and
 - d. Petitioners' counsel.
4. Should the parties in any of the above-captioned cases file a written stipulation prior to 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, March 3, 2026, affirming that all property has been returned to that petitioner, the Court will consider canceling the hearing as to their specific case.
