Attorneys for Defendants OpenAI Foundation (f/k/a OpenAI, Inc.); OpenAI, L.L.C.; and OpenAI OpCo, LLC

7. (a) Nature of the proceedings (divorce, paternity, breach of contract, product liability, etc.)

Plaintiffs filed suit against Defendants Apple Inc. (“Apple”); OpenAI Foundation (f/k/a OpenAI, Inc.); OpenAI, L.L.C.; and OpenAI OpCo, LLC (together with OpenAI, L.L.C. and OpenAI Foundation, “OpenAI”) in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas, Fort Worth Division. Plaintiffs assert claims for antitrust violations under the Sherman Act, including an agreement in restraint of trade in violation of Section 1, and monopolization, attempted monopolization, and conspiracy to monopolize the markets for generative AI chatbots and smartphones under Section 2. Plaintiffs also have asserted claims for civil conspiracy, unfair competition, and violations of the Texas Free Enterprise & Antitrust Act.

(b) Summary of complaint

Plaintiffs allege that Defendants entered into an exclusive agreement through which OpenAI’s generative artificial intelligence (“AI”) chatbot, ChatGPT, is the only generative AI chatbot natively integrated into the iPhone and other Apple products. Plaintiffs also allege that Apple forecloses rivals in the Apple App Store by limiting the discoverability of OpenAI's rivals and promoting ChatGPT in Apple's featured "Must-Have Apps" list, over which Apple exercises editorial control. Plaintiffs allege that Defendants' conduct forecloses competition in the markets for smartphone devices and generative AI chatbots.

Of particular relevance to this Letter of Request, Plaintiffs allege that Apple's conduct illegally restrains competition from "super apps": multi-functional platforms that offer many of the services of smartphones, such as social connectivity and messaging, financial services, e-commerce, and entertainment. The Alipay app, owned by Alipay, is a super app that combines messaging, banking, payments, navigation, and ride-sharing functionality. Plaintiffs allege that super apps allow customers to switch away from the iPhone, and that the exclusive agreement between Apple and OpenAI protects Apple's monopoly and keeps iPhone prices high.

(b) Summary of defense and counterclaim

In their motions to dismiss Plaintiffs' complaint, Defendants asserted that Plaintiffs failed to allege both an express agreement and substantial foreclosure in the markets for smartphones and generative AI chatbots, and that Plaintiffs lack standing to bring their claims because, among other arguments, they assert that Plaintiffs' apps do not compete with smartphones such as the iPhone and therefore could not be harmed by the agreement between Apple and OpenAI.

8. (a) Evidence to be obtained or other judicial act to be performed

Exhibit A to this Letter of Request describes the requests for production of documents that Plaintiffs wish to serve on Alipay, which is headquartered in the People's Republic of China. As Exhibit A demonstrates, Plaintiffs seek documents relating to Alipay's super app, Alipay, which Plaintiffs believe are in the possession, custody, or control of Alipay.

(b) Purpose of the evidence or judicial act sought

The documents requested in the attached Exhibit A are sought for anticipated use in an ongoing litigation. The requests for documents in Exhibit A are narrowly targeted to elicit information relevant to Plaintiffs' case, particularly with respect to the emergence of super apps—including Alipay's well-known Alipay app—and the competitive threat that super apps pose to smartphones such as the iPhone.

9. Identity and address of any person to be examined

Alipay (Hangzhou) Technology Co., Ltd.
Block B, Huanglong Times Square, 18 Wantang Road,
Xihu District, Hangzhou
Zhejiang 310012
China

10. Questions to be put to the persons to be examined or statement of the subject-matter about which they are to be examined

None.

11. Documents or other property to be inspected

Please see the list of requests for production of documents in the attached Exhibit A.

12. Any requirement that the evidence be given on oath or affirmation and any special form to be used

The Requesting Court respectfully requests that the documents be accompanied by a declaration that states that all documents were created and kept in the ordinary course of Alipay's business. Further, the Requesting Court requests that such a declaration be signed in a manner that, if falsely made, would subject the maker to criminal penalty under the laws of the People's Republic of China.

13. Special methods or procedures to be followed (e.g. oral or in writing, verbatim, transcript or summary, cross-examination, etc.)

The competent authorities are respectfully requested to visit the address of Alipay and request that Alipay produce the documents responsive to the requests for production in Exhibit A. The documents produced should be in printed copy and should be accompanied by an electronic copy if available. If a printed copy is unavailable but an electronic copy is available, the electronic copy should still be produced.

If the above method requested is not permitted under the laws of the People's Republic of China, the competent authorities may collect the documents listed in Exhibit A in accordance with the relevant civil procedural laws of the People's Republic of China.

14. Request for notification of the time and place for the execution of the Request and identity and address of any person to be notified

Please notify the counsel for Plaintiffs identified below regarding the time and place for the execution of this Letter of Request:

Scott A. Eisman
Axinn, Veltrop & Harkrider LLP
630 Fifth Avenue, 33rd Floor
New York, NY 10111
Tel: +1 (212) 261-5642
seisman@axinn.com

15. Request for attendance or participation of judicial personnel of the requesting authority at the execution of the Letter of Request

None.

16. Specification of privilege or duty to refuse to give evidence under the law of the State of origin

Alipay may refuse to give evidence only insofar as it has a privilege or duty to refuse to give evidence under the laws of the United States or the laws of the People's Republic of China. For example, it may refuse to produce a document to the extent that doing so would reveal privileged communications with its attorneys.

17. The fees and costs incurred which are reimbursable under the second paragraph of Article 14 or under Article 26 of the Convention will be borne by

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Please produce all requested Documents in Your possession, custody, or control, or available to You, or to which You may gain access through reasonable effort, including information in the possession of Your past and present attorneys, accountants, investigators, consultants, agents, or other persons directly or indirectly employed or retained by You, or any entity otherwise subject to Your control who maintains records on Your behalf, in Your name, or otherwise under Your control. Subject to a valid claim of privilege, please produce the entire Document if any part of that Document is responsive.

2. Documents must be produced either (a) as they are kept in the usual course of business (in which case they must be produced in such fashion as to identify the department, branch, or office in whose possession the Document was found or the server or central file in which it was found, and the address of each Document's custodian(s)), or (b) segregated as responsive to a specific Request enumerated herein, with such specific Request identified.

3. If any portion of any Document is responsive to any Request, a legible version of the entire Document must be produced, together with all non-identical copies, versions, and drafts of that Document, including all attachments and enclosures.

4. You must produce all Documents with any associated metadata. Provide instructions and all other materials necessary to use or interpret Your data compilations, such as a data dictionary, with Your production.

5. Data and materials that are stored electronically or in machine-readable form should be produced in electronic form with sufficient information to allow counsel to readily access or read such data or materials.

6. If you object to all or any portion of any of the below Requests, you must identify the objectionable Request or portion thereof, and the nature and basis of the objection. Notwithstanding any objection to any portion of any Request, you must produce all Documents and information to which such objection does not apply.

7. If any Document responsive to a particular Request no longer exists for reasons other than Your document-retention policy, describe the circumstances under which it was lost or destroyed, describe the information lost or destroyed, list the Request to which it was responsive, and list persons with knowledge of the Document.

8. If you are unable to produce a Document that is responsive to a Request, describe the Document, state why it cannot be produced and, if applicable, state the whereabouts of such Document when last in your possession, custody, or control.

9. If there are no Documents or information responsive to all or any portion of any Request, so state in writing.

10. Other than redactions of privileged information, Documents are to be produced in full. If any requested Document cannot be produced in full, or if you withhold production of any Document or portion of any Document responsive to these Requests based upon any privilege, protection, or immunity, produce it to the extent possible and indicate where any Document or portion of any Document has been withheld on this basis.

11. In construing the Requests herein:

- a. Terms not specifically defined shall be given their ordinary meaning as You understand them to be used in the trade;
- b. The use of a verb in any tense, mood, or voice shall be construed as the use of the verb in all other tenses, moods, or voices, whenever necessary, to bring within the scope of any Request all information that might otherwise be construed to be outside its scope;

- c. The use of the singular form of any word includes the plural and vice versa;
- d. Words in the masculine, feminine, or neutral gender shall include each of the other genders;
- e. The connectives “and” and “or” shall be construed either disjunctively or conjunctively as necessary to bring within the scope of the Request all responses that might otherwise be construed to be outside of its scope; and
- f. The terms “all,” “any,” and “each” shall each be construed as encompassing any and all.

12. None of the Definitions or Requests set forth herein shall be construed as an admission relating to the existence of any evidence, to the relevance or admissibility of any evidence, or to the truth or accuracy of any statement or characterization in the Definitions or the Requests.

13. Plaintiffs specifically reserve the right to seek supplementary responses and the additional supplementary production of Documents before trial.

14. Unless otherwise stated, the Requests call for the production of Documents from the Relevant Period.
